Warship Gets Warm Welcome

By DON BRANNING

The domestication of a United States aircraft carrier and its crew began early in the morning yesterday in many Bay Area homes.

For Mrs. Beverly Bill, 27, who lives in a spacious trailer near Greenbrae, it began just before 5 a.m., when she awoke to find her oldest son, Philip, staring at her bedside clock.

The carrier Oriskany, back from Vietnam where it launched 9,500 missions, was not due at Alameda Naval Air Station until 10 o'clock, bringing home the boy's father, Radarman 1/c Philip Bill, 28, and his uncle, Radarman 3/c Gerald Bill, 21. But Philip, 7, who was the most geared up of Mrs. Bill's four children, was having a hard time waiting.

Mrs. Bill, a slender, not outwardly demonstrative woman, shut off the alarm, giving in to Philip, and got up. It was the same in many Bay Area homes, and when the Oriskany nosed into Alameda at 10 a.m., the ship surrendered peacefully. Her sailors had spread a banner across an upper deck which stated, "We are here to make LOVE, not WAR."

Indeed, the Oriskany, which had lost 19 pilots in seven and one half months and had flown 181 strikes against heavily defended Hanoi and the port of Haiphong, looked more like a floating department store for several hours than it did like a ship of war. Her hanger deck was awash with tons of Jananese phonographs and television sets, Honda motorcycles, cameras and other items her 3,500 crewmen had bought in Hong Kong and Japan. Some of the happy sailors spent most of the afternoon unloading their loot and cranes were used to hoist off the heavier items.

The two brothers from Marin County, who work side by side in the ship's combat information center, brought back a refrigerator, three Japanese pinball machines, two sets of silverware, cameras, clothes tailor-made in Hong Kong and much else.

The tour was the third on the Oriskany for the older brother, a Navy man for 12 years, and the second for Gerald, who got aboard the carrier in 1966 in time to experience a fire in the ship's flare room which killed 44 crewmen.

Both brothers attended school in Marin County. Their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Philip R. Bill, live in Merritt's Island, Fla.

Philip Bill, in return for his gifts, had a gift waiting for him in the living room of the trailer at 2130 Redwood Highway. There were the three older children, Philip, Sherry, 5, and Jimmy, 4, to get ready as Mrs. Bill bustled about the trailer, and on the blue couch lay a placid baby, Wendy, born in November, while her husband was at sea.

Mrs. Bill fed everyone, including the two cats, Sua and Stormy, and the Pomeranian dog, Tinker Bell, that scratched at the glass sliding door trying to get inside to the excitement. Sherry found her Christmas card she had made for her father ("Welcome home, I love you,) and Mrs. Bill chastized the children from time to time — "Sherry, put that away. Can't you let your father see it clean for once?"

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cushman of San

Nixon Enters New Hampshire Primary Race

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon announced today in an open letter to the citizens of New Hampshire that he would be a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

The former vice president told the people of that state "the choices we face are larger than any differences among Republicans or among Democrats, larger even than the differences between the parties. They are beyond politics.

Nixon said in his long-expected declaration: "Peace and freedom in the world, and peace and progress here at home, will depend on the decisions of the next president of the United States. For these critical years, America needs new leadership."

He plans to take off next on a six-day campaign swing through New Hampshire, Wisconsin and Oklahoma.

LEAD-OFF PRIMARY

New Hampshire holds its first-in-the-nation primary March 12 and Wisconsin's primary follows April 2. Oklahoma convenes the first GOP state convention on Feb. 24 to elect delegates to the August Miami Beach convention.

Nixon, current leader in all the polls of GOP voters, carried all three states in his narrow 1960 loss to John F. Kennedy and they will give the first indications of his strength in the present campaign.

Nixon's New Hampshire manager, State Rep. David Sterling, filed papers just before the deadline last night to put the former vice president's name on the primary ballot.

ROMNEY BATTLE

His entry set the stage for a battle with Michigan Gov. George Romney, the only other major candidate on the ballot. There may be write-in campaigns for Gov. Ronald Reagan of California and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, both avowed noncandidates.

Nixon's schedule calls for a news conference in Manchester, N.H., tomorrow, and on Saturday he attends a Manchester reception with his wife and daugh-

Diehard Cong Continue Savage Saigon Attacks

McNamara Predicts U.S. Will Hold Arms Margin

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara told Congress today the Soviet Union has more than doubled its intercontinental ballistic missile force in the past year.

McNamara said U. S. plans to modernize this country's long range missile force and build new strategic bombers are behind schedule. But he said the United States still has better than a 4 to 1 nuclear superiority over Russia.

He said that even if the Soviet Union's development of offensive nuclear weapons and defenses were to proceed much faster than anyone expects, the United States would still maintain a more than adequate retaliatory power to serve as a deterrent to nuclear war.

McNamara said the Soviet Union had some 720 land-based ICBMs last Oct. 1, compared with 340 a year earlier. He said the buildup will probably continue but at a slower pace. The United States has 1054 land-based ICBMs.

He said the United States has 656 missiles on submarines compared with 30 for Russia. The U. S. striking force includes 697 long range bombers (some of which are being used in Vietnam) compared with 155 Soviet bombers.

In total numbers of nuclear warheads plus nuclear bombs, McNamara said, the U. S. has an edge of 4,500 to 1,000. But he stressed that it is not numbers which are important but the ability to inflict "unacceptable damage" on a potential aggressor.

McNamara also gave Congress a somber, long range progress report on Vietnam. He said military and economic aid to North Vietnam from Russia and other communist countries

U.S. Puts Tanks In Streets

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. infantry and armored units battled diehard Communist forces in Saigon again today as the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese pushed their biggest offensive of the Vietnam war up and down South Vietnam for the third day.

As fighting continued to rage in South Vietnam's capital, the Communists rampaged through other key government cities and took control of important areas in some of them. The situation appeared critical at many points.

BIGGER PUSH

Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. troops in Vietnam, predicted the Communists would follow the current drive with a still bigger campaign against South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, Quang Tri and Thua Thien, where the U.S. Marines are on guard below the demilitarized zone.

The Communists were paying a heavy price in their current offensive. Westmoreland said 5,800 enemy troops had been killed across the country, more than the toll usually reported for two or three weeks of fighting.

CASUALTIES HIGH

Allied casualties also were high: 555 killed, including 232 Americans, and 1,698 wounded, 929 of them Americans, according to the U.S. Command.

Civilian casualties mounted into the thousands across the country, with estimates of up to 2,000 killed or wounded in Saigon alone.

American armored and infantry troops were rushed from other critical areas into some of the threatened cities, including Saigon. As U.S. tanks, armored personnel carriers and infantrymen from three divisions

No Intention Of Bomb Halt, Johnson Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson served notice on Hanoi today that the United States has no intention of stopping the bombing of North Vietnam while Communist forces step up aggression through massive raids on South Vietnamese cities.

The President, at a medal of honor ceremony for a Vietnam war hero, said that if Hanoi is interested in peace, it had better find "some better sign (of it) than these last few days have provided from the forces of North Vietnam."

"What would the North Vietnamese be doing if we let them alone?" Johnson asked rhetorically. "The enemy force in the South would be larger and better equipped. The war would be harder and larger. It would claim more American lives."

The President made the statement as he presented the Medal of Honor, the nation's highest award for valor, to Maj. Merlyn H. Dethlefsen, an F105 pilot who led an attack last March on a missile site protecting a North Vietnamese industrial complex.

List Of Casualties Delayed By Battle

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Military Command failed to issue its weekly casualty figures today because of the critical situation in Saigon and elsewhere in the country.

Direct Pueblo Parley Hinted By North Korea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson may have to reassess U.S. troop commitments in Vietnam and seek more money to beef up American forces in the Korean area, says Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

As Mansfield discussed the possible increase in the U.S. military punch in the wake of Viet Cong raids in South Vietnam and the Pueblo crisis, there was a hint the North Koreans may be willing to discuss directly with American officials return of the Navy intelligence ship and her 83 men.

A broadcast from Pyongyang, North Korea, quoted Kim Kwang Hyup, secretary of the Central Committee of the North Korean Workers (Communist) party as saying there is a precedent for dealing with such a case before the Korean Military Armistice Commission in Panmunjom, Korea.

NO MEETINGS

In Washington, the State Department declined comment on whether this country would make a second effort at Panmunjom to settle the crisis. The North Koreans spurned a U.S. demand a week ago at the armistice site for release of the ship and crew.

The department said no new meetings had been scheduled.

Mansfield said coordinated attacks in South Vietnam, including the assault on the American Embassy in Saigon, "demonstrate that the Viet Cong, far from being decimated, is coming back strong."

"This may force the President to reassess our troop commitments there," he said. "I think it is fair to say that because of the situation developing in North Korea and the escalation of the fighting in South Vietnam, additional funds are likely to be required."

There are now about 482,000 Americans already in Vietnam and a commitment of 525,000 men by June 30 already is scheduled.

10 DAYS AGO

Since the North Korean seizure of the Pueblo 10 days ago, steps have been taken to enlarge U.S. task forces and air units near Korea.

Besides the possibility of an increase in military expenditures that Mansfield discussed, there were reports Johnson is considering the possibility of calling additional military reserves if the situation worsens.

As for the Pueblo and her crew, both Mansfield and Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said it was their understanding none of the diplomatic efforts to get them back has produced any tangible results.

But White House press secretary George Christian said Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara agree diplomatic efforts offer the best hope of regaining the ship and crew.

Another Storm Headed Our Way

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Gale warnings were up today from Point Arena northward as a new storm front neared the state. Small craft warnings were displayed from Point Arena south to Half Moon Bay.

The Weather Bureau said the storm likely would bring rain from Monterey and Stockton northward by tonight. Some rain may fall farther south.

Warmer air also is on the way and the snow level is expected to rise to 3,000 to 5,000 feet in the Siskiyous and to 6,000 to 8,000 feet in the Sierra Nevada by Friday.

Reagan Hints He'd Answer Slate Plea

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan says he still isn't interested in becoming vice president, but concedes an appeal for him to take the second spot on the Republican ticket in 1968 to bolster party unity "would be a hard argument" to resist.

The Governor insisted, however, that he still feels he can do more for the party as governor of California than as a vice presidential candidate.

In an interview with Gannett Newspapers yesterday, Reagan also said he is not a candidate for president. He predicted the national convention in August would draft him only "if I was the last man on earth."

"Nobody's knocked on my door and told me I have to be president," he added.

The Governor also said he will not campaign in any of the three open primaries where he can't keep his name off the

Johnson Sets Committee To Cool Fevered Economy

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Declaring that the nation's economy is moving "too fast for safety," President Johnson appealed to labor and management today to join in a major effort to curb wage and price increases.

In his annual economic report to Congress, the Chief Executive announced creation of a cabinet-level committee to work with business and labor for agreement on "general standards" for wages and prices.

Johnson was careful to avoid any hint of a return to his long-dormant wage-price "guideposts," but sources close to his Council of Economic Advisers conceded that, although 1968 was not the year, business and labor eventually would have to cooperate with the government on some modified form of guideposts if the nation is ever to reverse the wage-price spiral.

As expected, the President made another strong pitch for prompt congressional approval of his year-old request for a tax increase.

He also urged Congress to authorize expanded trade with Russia and the Communist countries of Eastern Europe and to free gold reserves now partially backing the dollar at home. He reaffirmed his determined to reduce the nation's balance of payments deficit and asked Americans again to restrict their travels in the next two years to the Western Hemisphere.

Johnson warned that if management and labor did not "behave prudently in setting prices and wages," the nation's economic stability would be threatened for years to come.

"I must again urge—in the strongest terms I know—that unions and business firms must exercise the most rigorous restraint in their wage and price determinations in 1968," he said.

To that end, the new cabinet committee will "attempt to reach some consensus (with business and labor leaders) on appropriate general standards

GRAVES MYSTERY

Rockefeller Asks All Bodies Dug Up

CUMMINS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller has announced that he wants all bodies exhumed from the grassy field where three skeletons were dug up Monday. And he says he wants to restrict investigations to the one being conducted by state police.

Meanwhile in Houston, Tex., and Fresno, Calif., former Arkansas penitentiary inmates told newsmen they watched prison guards slay 10 convicts who may be buried beneath some of the numerous depressions in the field.

U.S. PROBE URGED

The Arkansas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has asked U.S. Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark to have the Justice Department investigate. The Arkansas Legislative Cguncil and the Lincoln County grand jury also are considering investigations.

Rockefeller said, "We believe the investigation should be pushed fearlessly but in an orderly manner, and let the chips fall where they may."

SURVIVORS' TALES

Edward Redmond, 47, who operates a television repair shop in Houston, said he was an inmate at Cummins 28 years ago. He told the Houston Post he saw a prisoner choked to death with barbed wire, then buried under a guard tower along with two other slain convicts.

He said he saw at least four other inmates, all Negroes, killed by shotgun blasts.

In Fresno, Pershing Mills, 49, of Reedly, a former inmate at Tucker Prison Farm, about 45 miles north of here, told television station KMJ-TV he saw five prisoners shot by guards who later said the dead men had been trying to escape. Mills said the men hadn't been involved in an escape attempt.

Beer And Ale Sales Break All Records

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Beer and ale sales broke records for the ninth straight year in 1967 with an annual increase of 2.6 per cent.

Racing Dates Curbs Sought

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —A Democratic assemblyman says he intends to introduce legislation designed to eliminate additional horse racing dates authorized for Golden Gate Fields and Bay Meadows tracks.

Assemblyman Walter W. Powers of Sacramento said yesterday the measure would get "rid of the floating crap game represented by the Tanforan Racing Association."

The legislation would be the result of a controversial decision by the State Racing Board in granting dates which compete with dates approved for races at the new California Exposition at Sacramento and the San Joaquin County Fair at Stockton this summer.

The board has refused to change the decision even though some legislators and state officials contend the conflicting dates threaten the financial success of the Expo and Stockton races.

Powers said the Tanforan Racing Association "has just gotten out of hand" in gaining a hand in racing all over the state.

The Marine Corps Memorial in Washington, dedicated in 1954, cost $850,000 to build.

House Nears Passage Of Toughest Truth In Lending Bill To Date

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House appears on the verge of passing the most sweeping legislation ever approved by either branch of Congress to require that borrowers and buyers be told what interest and other finance charges they'll have to pay.

In a series of votes yesterday, the House nailed in provisions that expand the Consumer Credit Protection Act well beyond the dimensions of similar legislation passed last year by the Senate.

One major question remains to be decided before the final vote expected late today: Whether the measure should contain a strict limitation on garnishment of wages to collect debts.

As it stands, the bill covers practically all forms of lending and selling on credit, requiring that customers be told—in terms of annual percentage—the finance charges.

Unlike the Senate bill, the House measure includes revolving credit plans of department and mail-order stores plus transactions in which the credit charge is less than $10 and first mortgages on real estate.

It also would require advertisements to be specific about credit charges, if they mention lending or credit in any but general terms. Responsibility is on the advertiser, not the medium.

Marin County Police Academy Proposed In Grand Jury Report

A Marin County police academy, jointly financed by the county and city governments, was recommended today by the law enforcement committee of the Marin County Grand Jury.

At present, all police officers from the county must take their initial six weeks of training in San Francisco, Contra Costa or Sonoma counties, which have academies.

The committee recommended that the school's curriculum include training in the use of weapons, plus instruction in the California penal and vehicle codes and city and county ordinances.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos should be instructed to begin a study for this type of program, the panelists said.

The committee gave good reports on all law enforcement agencies, saying: "This grand jury finds the law enforcement in Marin County is at the highest level."

The office of Dr. Donovan O. Cooke, coroner and public administrator is too cramped for space, the committee said.

The 318 coroner's cases for 1966 cost the county $37,842, the committee said, and this "is as low (a cost) as can be obtained."

The committee called the sheriff's office and jail an "efficient operation."

"The Marin County Jail was found to be clean, sanitary and orderly. The committee was impressed by the competent and courteous atmosphere of those who are in charge." It was noted, however, that the same lack of space exists in the jail and sheriff's office as is present in all offices in the present court house.

In a special report, grand jury foreman Clifford S. Lund praised sheriff's deputies for "courage and dedication" exhibited during the seige of sniper fire and fire bomb violence in Marin City last July.

Lund said his observations of the incidents led him to conclude that the "illegal acts were perpetrated by a very small number of individuals who acted to the detriment of the citizens of Marin City and the community at large. . . .

"Perhaps the most unfair thing of all is that a handful of irresponsible law breakers should place an unfavorable light upon a community such as Marin City, which has worked zealously and continuously under noted handicaps to make the progress that is so obviously necessary."

Report Is Corrected In Divorce Action

A report in Friday's Independent-Journal of a divorce suit against Charles M. Dant of San Francisco mistakenly reported that his uncle, J. R. Dant, president of State Steamship Lines, was deceased.

The story confused the shipping line president with his brother, the late Robert E. Dant, father of Charles and one-time vice president and director of the line.

Drug Firm Faces Suit On Arrest

James Murray of San Francisco filed a $40,000 false arrest suit in Marin Superior Court yesterday against Long's Drugs of Novato, which placed him under citizen's arrest, alleging petty theft, Sept. 11.

Murray was found innocent of the charge after a trial in Marin Municipal Court.

He asked $15,000 general damages, $15,000 punitive damages, $10,000 for damage to his reputation and $483.50 to cover attorney's fees during the trial.

Architect To Give Civic Center Report

Stickney's plan estimated to cost $520,000, calls for council offices, city hall and police department on one side of Bolinas Avenue and a new fire station across the roadway at the northeast corner of Sherman Avenue and Bolinas Avenue.

County Hiring Policy Draws Criticism From Grand Jury

The Marin County Grand Jury reported today it has found "some important inadequacies" in county hiring practices.

The panel recommended that more thorough job application forms be developed, explaining:

"Many personnel files were deemed to be inadequate in their content, allowing employment to be judged without information which could be extremely relevant to the qualification of specific positions."

In a special report to the Board of Supervisors, the grand jury recommended the forms to be redesigned to:

Supply sufficient information, in depth, for the staff to decide whether or not to hire the applicant.

Meet all state and federal fair employment requirements.

Make the application a sworn statement, with the applicant attesting to the accuracy and completeness of the information provided.

Make the forms simpler, to allow easy processing by personnel staff and operating departments.

In addition, the panel said:

The personnel department should be responsible for a full background check on the applicant's previous employment, health and reputation.

The sheriff's office should run a security check on each applicant, including a report on the driving record of anyone who might use county vehicles while employees.

Monagan Warns State Tax Hike Is Needed

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Assembly Republican leader said today Californians face further tax increases, possibly in another year, despite Gov. Ronald Reagan's economy pledges.

Assemblyman Robert T. Monagan of Tracy made the comment at a news conference called to announce a new GOP "home rule" drive to return more federal money to state and local government, and fewer strings attached.

State and local governments are at a "critical juncture" in competing with the federal government for available tax sources, Monagan said.

"If we continue the pattern of expenditures versus revenues, it will be mandatory that we increase taxes on an average of 4 per cent every year just to maintain the programs we have now," Monagan said.

Monagan said "we may be able to survive another year" without a state tax boost, but one will be needed "in at least one more year and possibly two."

Reagan has pledged that his administration will attempt to keep state spending within the normal annual increase of revenue from the present tax level—about 7 per cent a year at present.

Lt. Gov. Robert H. Finch and Monagan revealed four proposed Assembly resolutions to "help establish goals which all Americans can embrace," as Finch said, "regardless of their political affiliation."

The resolutions center around "home rule," a concept the two said they hope will be included in national platforms of Democrats and Republicans.

Monagan proposed a resolution urging Congress to give state and local governments more of a share of tax revenues collected by the federal government.

A second resolution, by Assembly GOP caucus chairman Don Mulford of Piedmont, would strengthen California's efforts to make its voice heard in federal grant program planning.

Two other proposed measures would push for local control in use of federal grant money and would oppose proposed federal regulations which legislators say would jeopardize state plans for taking unemployed Californians off welfare and putting them in private industry training programs.

Psychiatrists Weigh Sanity Of Mother

A San Rafael psychiatrist reported today that May Jo Goodson, 36, was insane the day she is accused of stabbing her 3-year-old son to death in their San Rafael apartment.

Dr. Geraold Hill said in a written report that Mrs. Goodson "suffered a psychotic episode" Dec. 30, but is sane now and capable of understanding the murder charge brought against her and cooperating with her attorney.

Dr. Walter Rappaport, an Oakland psychiatrist, also wrote Superior Court Judge Harold J. Haley that Mrs. Goodson is sane enough to be tried.

Testimony on Mrs. Goodson's sanity at the time of the slaying was not requested by the judge and Dr. Rappaport offered no opinion.

Judge Haley said he wil rule tomorrow whether Mrs. Goodson is capable of standing trial.

The body of her son, Richard Anthony Goodson Jr., was found in a storage room at their apartment building at 725 Kerner Boulevard, San Rafael. Police said he was stabbed in the back at least twice with a 12-inch kitchen knife.

Transient Booked On Disturbance

Brian Raymond Ghelardi, 22-year-old transient, was booked in county jail early today on a citizen's arrest for investigation of disturbing the peace.

Mary Ellen Simpson, 44 Murray Avenue, who signed the complaint, told Larkspur police that Ghelardi, an acquaintance, refused to leave her home. He remained in jail inlieu of $250 bail at noon today.

$60 Fine Given Studio Operator

Ronald G. Lopez, 31, one of the operators of the now closed Pacific photo studios in San Rafael and Santa Rosa, paid a $60 fine in Sonoma Municipal Court today for failing to appear before the state Labor Commission to answer employees' wage complaints.

Lopez, of Oakland, was fined by Judge Alexander F. Sheidecker for ignoring a subpoena from the deputy state labor commissioner in Marin.

Lopez' partner, Philip G. Williams, 40, has pleaded guilty in the Sonoma court to issuing bad checks to employees and selling portraits over the phone using misleading information. Judge Sheidecker set sentencing for Mar. 11 at 1:30 p.m. ballot — Wisconsin, Nebraska and Oregon.

"If there should be such pressure, I will not yield to it," he declared. Asked if he considered himself "irrevocably committed" to not campaigning in Oregon, Reagan replied "I do."

Reagan contended that the distance is widening between the man he sees as the current front runner, former vice president Richard M. Nixon, and the only declared GOP candidate, Michigan Gov. George Romney.

Romney, he said, "unless he stages a quick comeback has dropped so far behind" Nixon "that it's difficult to see how they can have a meaningful contest. I don't think anyone is going to win in the primaries."

The California chief executive was pessimistic about the chances of the other main possible candidate, New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

This, Reagan explained, is because of Rockefeller's unsuccessful and bitter challenge in 1964 of the eventual GOP nominee for the White House, Barry Goldwater.

Brakes Fail In Car Test

A potential customer took a used sports car on a demonstration run from a San Rafael dealer yesterday — and the brakes failed as it was being driven down a hill.

Police said driver Frederick C. Kea, 20, of Hamilton Air Force Base swung the car up a bank off Balboa Avenue in an effort to avoid an accident with traffic on San Pedro Road. The crash damaged a city water sprinkler system.

Sub Believed Japanese Type

PERTH, Australia (AP) — Underwater wreckage sighted off the south coast of western Australia 120 miles east of Esperance is thought to be that of a Japanese submarine sunk in December 1944 by three Australian corvettes.

This belief is held by two of the corvettes. They are Les Barnes, 47, and Stan Brury, 59.

An airline pilot spotted the wreckage and it was thought it might be the U.S. navy submarine Triton that vanished in 1943 with 74 men aboard while patroling for Japanese shipping.

ECONOMY

to guide private price and wage decisions."

Another duty for the panel will be to study industries that, through inefficiency or out of date technology, contribute to inflation, and to recommend changes in government spending practices that might have an inflationary influence.

Beyond that, the new committee's duties seemed vague.

The council of Economic Advisers, in a report forwarded to Congress by the President, did say, however, that the rate of price increases during 1968 could be slowed only if union wage settlements averaged "appreciably lower" than the 5.5 per cent average of last year.

No one would say how much lower that should be, but the council did say it was "unrealistic" to expect labor to accept a wage increase that would be wiped out by the 3 per cent rise in consumer prices last year.

Thus it appeared the administration's plan this election year was to press gently for wage increases somewhere between 3 per cent and 5.5 per cent, with anything less than the higher figure a happy surprise.

SAIGON

pushed through the streets of the capital to root out enemy resistance, Viet Cong soldiers and political cadre began to surface openly in some thickly populated parts of the capital.

LIBERATION CALL

In at least two parts of Saigon, men were knocking on doors and announcing: "We are from the National Liberation Front. We have come to liberate Saigon."

There were reports the National Liberation Front— the Viet Cong's political arm—had announced the formation of a revolutionary council to run Saigon.

South Vietnamese military headquarters reported street fighting in nine different places in the capital city of nearly 3 million people. A wall of tanks and armored personnel carriers surrounded the U.S. embassy, whose grounds the Viet Cong occupied for six hours yesterday, and Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker's residence five blocks away.

The main gate of the big U.S.-South Vietnamese air base at Bien Hoa, 15 miles north of Saigon, was reported under heavy attack late this afternoon.

Sketchy reports from the area said large fires could be seen burning inside the base, but there were no details on the fighting. Aircraft still were landing and taking off at the field.

The Bien Hoa Air Base is one of the major allied air bases in South Vietnam.

Fighting was reported "extremely heavy" on the southern edges of Saigon, with "neither side giving an inch," one source said.

The Viet Cong reportedly had set up an operations center of sorts in the An Quang Pagoda, one of the main Buddhist churches in the Chinese section of the city, and were exhorting the people to demonstrate against the government.

Lt. Gen. Frederick C. Weyand, commander of the U.S. forces in the Saigon area, said intelligence officers have identified five enemy battalions—2,000 men—in the Saigon fighting.

He said the enemy "has the capabilities of renewing" the same type of attacks they made Wednesday on the U.S. Embassy, numerous American billets and Tan Son Nhut Air Base.

Another American commander in Saigon, Maj. Gen. Keith Ware, said U.S. troops were deployed throughout the city to clean out snipers and pockets of resistance. He added: "We are positioning our forces for new attacks."

Reports flowed into Saigon of unabated fighting up and down the country, with enemy troops reported in control of key sections of Hue, the old imperial capital, and Quang Tri, in the northern provinces; Dalat, Kone Thuot, in the central highlands, and Ben Tre and Binh Long, in the Mekong Delta.

Gen. Weyand said Hanoi had decided to commit from 21 to 30 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese battalions, as many as 12,000 troops, to the battle for Saigon and the provinces around it. He said some North Vietnamese army regulars had been taken prisoner in Saigon, the first time North Vietnamese troops have been reported fighting in the capital city.

Public Barred In Hearing On Murders

Marin Municipal Court Judge Alvin H. Goldstein Jr. today barred the public from the preliminary hearing of two men charged with the brutal slaying Jan. 12 of a San Rafael barber and his wife.

Sommerhalder, 24, and Kenneth Allen Preston, 20, both of Santa Rosa, are accused of the shooting, stabbing and strangulation murders of Curtis O. Ackley, 27, and his wife, Shirley, 34, in their house trailer near Smith Ranch Road in Santa Venetia.

Richard Anthony Sommerhalder, 21-year-old brother of Johnny Sommerhalder, was one of two men booked into county jail yesterday to be held as witnesses for today's hearing.

Ronald Edward Long, 25, of Santa Rosa, originally arrested with Preston and Sommerhalder after a brief gun battle outside a ramshackle Santa Rosa house Jan. 14, was also being held to testify.

Preston and Sommerhalder, both members of a Santa Rosa motorcycle gang called the Grim Reapers, allegedly put a pillowslip over the head of Ackley and shot him four times.

Mrs. Ackley was sexually assaulted, strangled and shot twice in the head. She was also stabbed twice and a knife was found protruding from her back.

Preston is being defended by Edwin Verzil of Sacramento, former district attorney of Kings County.

Weissich, once Marin County District Attorney, said he will ask the court to seal the transcript of today's hearing to prevent pre-trial publicity if the men are held for trial in Superior Court.

MISSILES

may have risen to $1 billion last year.

In his annual report to the Senate Armed Services Committee, McNamara estimated that Communist China could deploy its first medium range ballistic missiles, as a threat to its Asian neighbors, this year.

He said China could have a "modest force" of medium range missiles operational by the mid 1970's. He said China failed in its apparent hopes to test a space missile or ICBM during 1967, but still could have ICBMs, which could reach the United States, operational in the mid 1970s.

NIXON

ters and speaks at a Nixon for President dinner in Concord.

Nixon, now 55, has been in politics since his election to Congress from California in 1946. He went over to the Senate in 1951 and was vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961.

After his unsuccessful 1960 bid to follow Eisenhower in the White House he returned to California and in 1962 was defeated when he ran for governor of the state.

He read himself out of politics then in a famous press conference and soon moved to New York where he entered private law practice. But before long he was back making speeches and appearances for the party.

In 1964 Nixon did not make a major open bid for the GOP nomination and he gave Barry Goldwater full support in his losing campaign.

Marinite Faces Trial For Sonoma Poaching

He is George Sequiera, 27, of 200 Miller Creek Road.

Facing the same charge is Michael M. Weigener, 27, of South San Francisco, who pleaded guilty with Sequiera last Feb. 18 to trespassing on a Trinity County ranch after being originally charged with stealing pigs.

Sequiera was convicted in 1962 by a Marin County jury of placing a small, wayward dog into battle with one of his pit bulls. The small dog died, and Sequiera was fined $384.

The Sonoma County District Attorney's office said Sequiera and Weigener trespassed and discharged a weapon on the Call Ranch in Sonoma Dec. 8.

Trial in Central Municipal Court, Santa Rosa, on the hunting charge is set for Tuesday.

Weigener and Joseph D. Hadaway, 29, of Petaluma, also will be tried Tuesday on charges of killing a wild hog on a Cazadero ranch, adjoining state park lands, with a rifle on Jan. 6. That same day, it is charged, Weigener also trespassed on two adjacent ranches.

All are free on bail and will be represented by William O. Weissich of San Rafael.

Banker Indicted In Missing Funds

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Richard E. Maciel, 28, San Jose, was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday on charges of misappropriating $20,000 from a Los Altos bank where he was employed as operations officer.

Maciel was accused of misappropriating the money from the Rancho office of the First Western Bank between March 1966 and October 1967, when he resigned. He has made restitution of $2,715.

South Marin Sewage Plans Due Review

Governmental structures for future sewerage service in Southern Marin will be discussed at a public meeting next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in the planning commission chambers of the Marin County Civic Center.

Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows announced that 11 sanitary agencies in Southern Marin have been invited to express their views at the hearing.

The discussion will focus on the governmental structures recommended in the 192-page sewerage study completed by Brown and Caldwell, San Francisco consulting engineers.

Brown and Caldwell suggested two alternatives:

1. North Marin County Water District would coordinate sewerage functions in West and Northeast Marin. Marin Municipal Water District would perform a similar function for Southeast Marin and Bolinas areas.

2. Assign over-all responsibility to three county sanitation districts. District No. 1 would serve West and Northeast Marin; District 2 would handle San Rafael and Corte Madera watersheds, and District 3 would serve Richardson Bay, Marin Headlands and Bolinas watersheds.

Brown and Caldwell engineers also point out that many modifications of these two basic structures are possible.

Floods Wrack Java

Guilty Plea In Marijuana Case

William James Fulton Jr. pleaded guilty in Marin Superior Court yesterday to a misdemeanor charge of being present where marijuana is used. A felony charge of marijuana possession was dismissed by the district attorney.

Fulton was arrested by sheriff's deputies July 10 when he allegedly had a small quantity of marijuana in a vacant house at 1492 Redwood Highway, Corte Madera.

He is to appear in court for sentencing Feb. 21.

Two University of California at Los Angeles students publicly burn their draft cards during a campus session in which Dr. Benjamin Spock told his Los Angeles audience the best way to end the Vietnam war is to disrupt the Selective Service by refusing to be drafted. ## Reagan's New Urban View: House Deeds Bring Pride

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Giving a public housing resident a deed to his property was proposed by Gov. Ronald Reagan as one way to help clean up run-down urban areas.

"People do not develop a sense of pride in their neighborhoods when the lawns are mowed for them by public housing employees, the garbage is taken out by a public housing employee and everything else is done for them," the governor said.

"What would be wrong with giving the man in public housing a one-time deed to that unit?" Reagan asked. "He then becomes a property owner with the property owner's pride in his possessions.

"Property owners, without question, take better care of their property than renters."

His remarks were in a speech prepared for the conclusion of a two-day Governor's Conference on Planning for Housing and Home Ownership.

The governor also proposed the possibility of postponing payment of property tax increases which result when the owner repairs and improves his home.

"The common complaint is that the first person to congratulate you after you have improved your home is the tax assessor," he said.

He said his administration is studying inclusion of the tax moratorium program in his coming tax reform plan to produce "some type of incentive which will help stop the creeping blight in our cities."

The Republican governor also suggested encouraging various pension trust funds, both public and private, to invest their "untapped . . . billions of dollars" in California home building.

He urged private industry to increase its involvement in solving housing needs, an area in which he said federal programs generally have failed.

Reducing Bus Tolls Requested

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The California Toll Bridge Authority has been asked to reduce commuter bus tolls on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge.

Alan Bingham, general manager of the Alameda-Contra Costa Transit District, made the request yesterday.

He said the reduction would avoid the need to limit service or increase fares, which could cause an increase in the use of cars on the bridge during rush hours.

U.S. Plans Test On Ion Rockets

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Lockheed Missiles & Space Co. of Sunnyvale, Calif., has a $1,769,000 contract from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to adapt the second stage of the Agena rocket for use in testing electric thrusters in earth orbit.

NASA's Sert 2 flight, to be launched in the spring or early summer of next year, will evaluate the performance of electron bombardment ion engines over a period of six months.

Scientists will study the possible effects of electric thursters and their associated electric fields on other parts of the spacecraft such as solar cells, radio telemetry, and control systems.

Sert 2 will be launched by a combination of Thor and Agena rockets from the Western Test Range in California in a circular orbit 612 miles above the earth.

Burns Reshuffles Committees; GOP Charges 'Petty Politics'

COMBINED AP & UPI

SACRAMENTO — Senate president pro tem Hugh Burns, D-Fresno, has again taken the reins of the Subcommittee on Un-American Affairs, but he'd like to turn the job over to another man.

The committee was increased to six members with the addition of Sen. Jack Schrade, R-San Diego, at Schrades' own request.

Its membership now includes four of the five members of the powerful Rules Committee—the heart of the Senate "establishment," a bipartisan group of upper house veterans.

The committee unveiled its assignments to the 21 standing committees yesterday. It hewed pretty much to the traditional pattern of seniority but a handful of Republicans who bucked the rules body were demoted.

Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, R-Ojai, said he lost his seats in the powerful Senate Finance Committee and Governmental Efficiency Committee because he backed an unsuccessful bid earlier this year by Sen. Donald

Sen. George Deukmejian of Long Beach blamed the loss of his vice chairmanship on the Revenue and taxation committee on "political pettiness" resulting from his support of Grunsky.

He said he considers the loss of his own and other Republican senators' status as a reprisal for "supporting the governor and the Republican party . . ."

Republican Sen. Clair W. Burgener of San Diego, another Grunsky supporter, lost the chairmanship of the Social Welfare Committee.

He said he will sponsor most of Gov. Ronald Reagan's social welfare bills this session and that his demotion "makes it harder."

Burns said he would operate the Un-American Affairs Committee the same as in the past. He said Richard Coombs would remain as its counsel. There had been reports Coombs would retire.

"I don't want to change counsels while I'm head of the committee," Burns said.

But Burns said he felt there should be a change in the committee's operations "in the near future." He said he wanted to step down as committee head "but I haven't found a man who wants to take it yet."

"The whole pattern of subversive activities is changing," he said. "They've got the Supreme Court on their side. It's more out in the open now but I think we've got to keep watching them."

Burns said he felt "new blood" would revitalize the committee and perhaps devise a new format to meet the changing conditions.

Democrats came out with 11 chairmanships to 10 for the Republicans in the evenly divided upper house.

The big prize went to Republican Sen. Richard J. Dolwig, Atherton, who heads the crucial Governmental Efficiency Committee. But the committee — historically a legislative graveyard—is controlled 7-4 by Democrats. Its former chairman was the late Sen. J. Eugene McAteer, D-San Francisco.

And Democrats increased their margin on the Finance Committee from 7-6 to 8-5. This committee will handle Reagan's budget bill in the upper house.

Brown Wonders If Unruh Is Serious About Senate

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Former Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown said today Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh would be a formidable candidate for the U.S. Senate — if he's serious about running.

But, said Brown in an interview, "whether he's a serious candidate — I'm damned if I know."

Privately, some Democrats were more frank in expressing skepticism about the Democratic speaker's statement yesterday that he is "quite seriously" considering running for the seat now held by U.S. Thomas H. Kuchel, the Senate Republican whip.

"I don't believe it," said a powerful Democratic leader who had feuded with Unruh in the past. He said he doubted if Unruh wants to risk his Assembly seat against Kuchel, who has won past elections with ease.

Assemblyman Charles Warren, Democratic state chairman, said, however, "I think he's as serious as any office holder with ambitions for higher office can be. I'm sure he's weighing the pros and cons of being a candidate for the U.S. Senate."

One of Unruh's close associates in the Assembly, who asked that his name not be used, said he did not think Unruh would run.

Some legislators said Unruh is already committed to put his time and energy in 1968 in helping the Democrats hold, or increase, their four-vote majority in the Assembly.

Assemblyman Winfield Shoemaker, D-Lompoc, the Democratic caucus chairman, said that some $300,000 had been raised by political dinners in Northern and Southern California.

Shoemaker said the money will be allocated to the 42 incumbent Democrats in the biggest danger of losing to Republicans.

If Unruh ran and lost, he would be another private citizen, with his chances of running for the governorship in 1970 damaged.

But if he remains in the Assembly and is able to help his party control the house, Unruh would continue as speaker — the second most powerful political job in the state — and be in a strong position to be the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in two years.

Unruh predicted that if he runs, he will have the support of all the feuding factions of the Democratic party. "I could probably have the Senate nomination for the asking," he said.

The Vatican City State was established in 1929.

Unruh Proposes Transplant Card To Protect Physicians

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A wallet-sized card giving doctors permission to transplant parts of the bearer's body into others was proposed today in the Legislature.

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh said his proposed legislation is needed to protect doctors from malpractice suits in these times of increasingly common organ transplants.

And he said it also will help insure that the needed organ can be transplanted as soon as possible after death so the recipient's body will accept it.

"Today Californians who desire to donate their remains to such medical purposes after their death have no means of insuring they can do so if they die suddenly in an accident and their relatives cannot immediately be located to give their consent," the Inglewood Democrat said.

He said the measure would allow any hospital to issue the consent certificate to a doctor for a nominal fee. The certificate, when signed by the potential donor and his physician, would be sufficient legal release allowing the transplant operation, he said.

Unruh said a recent Gallup Poll indicated nearly 70 per cent of Americans would donate their bodies to medical science after death if they could specify so beforehand.

Oakland Planning A Port Needle

OAKLAND (AP) — A restaurant 4,000 feet out in San Francisco Bay that will revolve, giving diners a constantly changing view of the bay, the bridges and the skylines of San Francisco and Oakland, is planned for completion by late 1969.

The Port of Oakland said the 70-foot-high restaurant will be built on the southwest corner of the Port of Oakland's Seventh Street Marine Terminal. It will have a motif similar to Seattle's Space Needle.

The restaurant will have small boat slips so that diners can sail in for their meals.

Court Refuses Ruling On Hearst Job Issue

COMBINED AP & UPI

SAN FRANCISCO — Representatives of all San Francisco Labor Unions were called to a meeting today to unite behind the San Francisco Newspaper strike.

The program included a plan to launch a statewide campaign against strikebreakers. Los Angeles newspaper unions accuse the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner of using strikebreakers in its continued publication since the American Newspaper Guild struck it in December.

There has been no attempt to publish Hearst's San Francisco Examiner nor the independent Chronicle since the Mailers Union struck the San Francisco Newspaper Printing Co. Jan. 5.

U.S. District Judge Alfonso J. Zirpoli refused yesterday to go into the question of whether the Hearst Corp. is a single employer for all its newspapers.

He said that would have to be determined by the National Labor Relations Board after a hearing starting in Los Angeles Feb. 19.

The judge postponed until Feb. 7 arguments on whether he should issue a preliminary injunction against picketing by Los Angeles newspaper unions in San Francisco and other cities where Hearst newspapers are published.

A Los Angeles police captain and a labor union official yesterday made clashing statements about who was to blame for Friday's disorderly demonstration at the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

Police Captain Joseph Stephens charged that the smashing of 20 windows at the struck newspaper apparently was prearranged.

Sigmund Arywitz, executive secretary of the Los Angeles County Labor Federation said the demonstration was peaceful until objects were hurled at demonstrators from inside the plant.

Stephens said police reports indicate two windows were open at the Herald-Examiner plant at the time of the demonstrations, but no objects were thrown from them.

He said officers at the scene saw objects hitting the building —apparently thrown from the outside—and falling back down.

Arywitz claimed that a heavy object thrown from inside the plant struck Tom Shirley, president of Pressman's Local 18, while he was watching the demonstration.

Policies On Downtown Area Set

Tiburon Planning Commission last night set several policies to be the basis of a general plan for the downtown area, according to Erik Rettig, chairman.

The policies include provisions that the central waterfront be designed with an "open feeling," that the potential for tourist development be limited and also that limited recreational marine activities be encouraged.

Re-development of waterfront buildings on the south side of Main Street are to be encouraged. Public parks will be developed around flood control ponds. Through traffic will bypass the congested downtown area.

George Gatter, planning, consultant, said he urged the commission to adopt the policies quickly to be presented to the city council, for the commission's guidance in making future planning decisions.

No deadline has been set yet for the council presentation.

Judge Outlaws Newspapers' Joint Plant

TUCSON, Ariz. (UPI) — A common publishing agency operated by this city's two newspapers since 1940 has been declared illegal by a federal judge in a decision which may affect similar joint agreements in 23 other cities.

U. S. Dist. Judge James A. Walsh yesterday also ruled as illegal the 1965 purchase of the morning Arizona Daily Star by the Tucson Daily Citizen. Both newspapers have a circulation of about 40,000 each.

The rulings were handed down in an antitrust suit filed by the federal government in January, 1965. Trial was conducted by Walsh nearly two years ago.

Walsh said in the decision, "the operative agreement entered into between the Citizen Publishing Co. and the Arizona Publishing Co. which became effective on July 1, 1940, provides for price-fixing, profit-pooling and market allocation by the parties of the agreement and such provisions of the operating agreement are illegal per se."

The citizens purchased the Star in January, 1965, exercising a long-standing option. The 1940 agreement set up Tucson Newspapers Inc. (TNI) and provided for the papers to operate independently in their news oprations and editorial policies but to share advertising sales, circulation, distribution and pro - duction.

Walsh ordered the defendants, the Citizen Publishing Co., (TNI Arden Publishing Co. and William A. Small Jr., to furnish within 90 days a plan to sell or dispose of all the stock of Arden Publishing, formed to operate the Star.

William White, TNI public relations director, said, "A decision to appeal the decision will be made after our lawyers and Tucson Newspapers Inc. officials evaluate the full effect of the decision. It is a distinct possibility (that an appeal will be made).

Defense attorneys contended during the trial that the papers made only a small profit before the TNI agreement. The attorneys said the agreement had insured the papers would maintain high standards of journalism.

State Publishers Open Conclave

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The California Newspaper Publishers Association opened its 80th annual convention today, with 1,000 newspaper executives assembling for three days of shop talk and briefing on major national issues.

Tomorrow's program calls for addresses by California Gov. Ronald Reagan and Rep. Edward J. Derwinski of Illinois, a ranking member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Derwinski will address the keynote luncheon at noon in the ballroom of the Century Plaza Hotel.

Reagan's speech — his annual "Report to the Press"— will be delivered tomorrow evening.

Car Flips, Hurts Woman Driver

A San Rafael woman excaped with minor injuries at 12:30 a.m. today when her car rolled over on northbound Highway 101, north of the Alto Wye.

Kathleen A. Donohue, 23, of 218 Canal Street, Apt. A, was apparently making an abrupt lane change when the accident occurred, according to the California Highway Patrol.

$150,000 Is Sought In Land Sale

Marin County Savings and Loan Association was sued for $150,000 in Marin Superior Court yesterday by two men who claim the association induced a San Rafael property owner to break a contract for sale of land at 16, 17, 18 and 19 Thomas Court, San Rafael.

Leonids Bitners and Salvatore Basilico said they signed an agreement with May K. Verhonik June 23, 1965, to buy the property for $62,000.

They went to the savings and loan association to negotiate financial arrangements, they said, and James. F. McConnell, chief loan manager, said several times during the discussion that the price for the land was a steal.

The men contend that the association induced Mrs. Verhonik on July 4 to breach the contract on the premise that the purchase price was too low.

A month later, the property was sold for $75,000 to business customers or friends of the savings and loan association or its employees, the suit claims.

The men ask $13,000 compensatory damages and $150,000 punitive damages.

Also named as defendants in the suit are Mrs. Verhonik, McConnell, another association employee and 10 John Does.

Flip Of Coin Decides Aviation Board Leader

A toss of a coin broke a 3-3 deadlock to give Tris Coffin the chairmanship of the Marin County Aviation Commission at a meeting at last night Civic Center.

Coffin, Mill Valley businessman and private pilot, won over David B. Vail, also of Mill Valley, who was absent because of illness.

Vail was elected vice chairman.

Coffin announced that one of his major goals this year will be to work for an aviation master plan for Marin County.

Marin County Aviation Commissioners also:

AIRPORT RULES — Decided to incorporate airport rules into the Marin ordinance so that they can be treated as law and enforced. Airport manager Francis E. Torr will consult the county counsel to have the rules prepared in the proper form for adoption by the board of supervisors.

STATE AID — Appointed Commissioner Ray W. Foreaker Jr. to investigate the requirements needed for the county to qualify for state aid for future capital improvements.

NEW MEETING DATE — Set the third Wednesday of each month, instead of the second Tuesday, as the regular meeting date. The commission meets at 8 p.m. at Civic Center.

MANAGER'S REPORT — Heard a report from Torr that 49 aircraft owners have made reservations for tie-down space at the new county airport in Novato, and that all preparatory facilities are completed for fixed base operators.

Kettenhofen Cites Delay On 17 Route

Marin Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen made it clear last night that the issue of Highway 17 will remain in limbo until the City of San Rafael takes a stand on routing.

Kettenhofen, speaking before the Marin Citizens Transportation Committee, endorsed a committee bid to have the east-west highway built as a scenic road and not a freeway, but said San Rafael has yet to act on a route for the highway.

The supervisor voiced opposition to a proposed "central corridor" route through the center of San Rafael, preferring a ridge rout beginning at the Civic Center.

Fairfax and San Anselmo city councils have joined the citizens committee in favoring deletion of the highway from the state freeway system and its designation as a scenic highway.

Kettenhofen said, however, he opposed such removal, saying this would give the project lower priority for funding.

"Just because it's in the freeway system, it wouldn't have to be built as a freeway," the supervisor declared. Kettenhofen said the supervisors could set scenic road criteria for Highway 17 and not sign an agreement with the state Division of Highways unless it agreed to the criteria.

Recorder Stolen

Lincoln E. Borba of 109 Professional Center Parkway, San Rafael, has reported to San Rafael police that thieves stole a strerophonic tape recorder from his car while it was parked in the municipal lot at 3rd and Cijas streets. The theft occurred Tuesday.

Teen Dance To Aid Dimes March

A public benefit dance for teen-agers is scheduled from 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday at San Rafael High School to benefit the March of Dimes campaign against birth defects.

Four bands will donate time to play "folk-rock to psychedelic music," said Eleanor Clement of Terra Linda High School, chairman of the high school fund campaign in Marin.

Jay North, who some years ago played Dennis the Menace on television and now is in the TV series Maya, will appear at the dance.

Firemen Request Help On Dance

San Rafael volunteer fire department wants to put a fire jumper (hand-drawn hose cart) in front of the Marin County Courthouse to advertise the department's annual dance on Feb. 17.

L. C. Brooks, secretary treasurer of the organization, wrote to the Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday, asking for permission to place the fire jumper at the courthouse from Feb. 4 through 17.

The annual firemen's dance is set for 9 p.m. at the Peacock Gap Country Club in East San Rafael.

San Rafael Urged To Seek Low Rent Housing Subsidy

The Marin Council for Civic Affairs last night endorsed a plan to ask San Rafael City Council to approve a federally-subsidized leased housing program for the city's poor.

Don Newmark, administrative assistant to the county housing authority, said the program was to help elderly people and those on welfare.

A survey throughout the county disclosed there were 1,160 who could benefit from such a program, said Newmark, and 36 per cent of them in San Rafael.

"San Rafael has by far the biggest problem and has the greatest need," he said.

The program would help pay the rent for people who, because of low incomes, were already putting aside too great a slice of their budget for housing needs.

Old houses would be utilized to avoid building whole units of low cost housing.

The program has been approved by the city councils of Mill Valley and Sausalito.

San Rafael City Council will be asked to approve it on Monday at 8 p.m. in city hall.

Mrs. Harry W. Lucheta, whose term as chairman ends in June, was nominated to fill a vacancy on the Marin County Human Rights Commission.

Other action included accepting the Committee on Redevelopment of Marin City — formely the Marin City Foundation — as a committee of MCCA.

Littering Charge Draws Guity Plea

J. E. Eva, 23, was fined $59 by Judge David R. Baty.

Executive Post To Road Builder

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The man who supervised the building of the Burma Road in World War II has been elected president of Yuba Industries, Inc.

Seedlock, 54, was commander of the Army Engineering Center at Ft. Belvoir, Va., until his retirement. He supervised construction of the 550-mile Burma Road from Kunming, China, to Burma in 1944 after the Japanese retreat.

Tricks Appear Louder Than Words When Stumbling Against The Pros

One advantage of playing against experts is that when you make a mistake you find out all about it. They won't say much, but tricks speak louder than words.

SMALL MISTAKE

When today's hand was played a few months ago during an international tournament on the island of Majorca, two to the best players of the Netherlands put on an exhibition of fine defensive play after South had made one small mistake.

Pieter Boender opened the five of spades, and dummy's eight won the first trick. This was not a promising start for the defense, but the situation changed dramatically when declarer led a low heart to the king.

DROPS QUEEN

Boender dropped the queen of hearts, and now declarer couldn't develop the hearts without giving a trick up to East's jack. Bob Slavenberg, East, got in with the jack of hearts and promptly returned the queen of clubs.

South would have escaped by playing low if East had returned a low club, but the queen of clubs left no escape for declarer. The defenders rattled off four clubs and one heart, defeating the contract.

WEST SHIFT

Every reader of this column has surely seen South's one small mistake. After winning the first trick in dummy with the eight of spades, declarer shoul lead the ten of hearts from dummy and pass it around to West. Declarer is in no danger if he gives up a heart trick to West, but he cannot afford to give up a trick to East.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠ J 4 2

♦ K 4 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds.

The hand is too strong for a raise to two hearts but not strong enough for a jump to three hearts. It is a couple of points light for a jump to 2 no trump (although this bid was chosen by an experienced player in a recent intertational tournament).

Plant 10 Trees For Every Auto

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Ten trees should be planted for every automobile in California, according to a professor at the University of California's San Francisco medical center.

Dr. Chauncey D. Leake said planting trees "in addition to beautifying the landscape, is beneficial to health."

"The tree leaves help maintain a healthy balance of carbon dioxide and oxygen in air smog caused by industry and vehicle exhaust fumes."

Today is Thursday Feb. 1, the 32nd day of 1968 with 334 to follow.

The moon is between the new phase and first quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars, Saturn and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1966 comedian Buster Keaton died and Patricia Kennedy, sister of the late President John F. Kennedy, divorced actor Peter Lawford.

RCA Union Votes Today On Contract

The 113 Marin residents employed by Radio Corporation of America in Marin and in San Francisco were to join in a nationwide union vote this afternoon on an RCA wage offer which might end a two-month company-union dispute.

The American Communications Association of the Teamsters Union claims the firm locked employees out of West Marin transmitting and receiving stations and out of San Francisco offices on Dec. 1 during wage negotiations.

A negotiating committee in New York City yesterday approved a package wage proposal from the firm. Union members from Guam to New York and Puerto Rico were to vote on the proposal this afternoon. The union rejected an earlier company offer.

Members will vote on an offer of a wage raise of 4 per cent or $4 a week, the employee getting whichever is higher. Skilled workers, such as teletype operators, would get an additional $1.50 a week. The proposal also calls for future automatic wage raises of $4.50 a year. A union spokesman said there now is no automatic wage hike in the contract.

The union said that the present wage rates range from $56 a week for a messenger to a top of $169.50 weekly for skilled technicians.

Pickets Bring Store Complaints

A San Rafael man has filed a complaint with the National Labor Relations Board that his store was illegally picketed by a union feuding with the Radio Corp. Of America.

Alton E. Cox, owner of Cox TV, 603 Del Ganado Road, alleged in a complaint filed Friday in San Francisco that pickets failed to meet federal requirements for informational picketing.

The union, the American Communications Association, asked customers to boycott RCA products, but Cox complained that pickets' signs only said "locked out," and that pickets caused some customers to turn away and stopped deliveries to his store.

The largest number of foreign-born residents of the United States come from Germany, about 4.3 million.

THE BETTER BUY SHOP run by women of the Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour has a very attractive cottage-type exterior and a cozy interior. Not even a storm kept devoted workers, such as Mrs. Forest J. Sur, one of the chairman, left, and Mrs. Robert Harshberger from going to work at the shop. it's fun too, they say, because housewives have a chance to visit as they perform many tasks.

KEEPING STORE

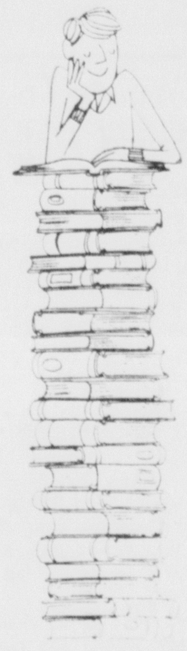
Churchwomen Deal In Silver, Snow Tires And Rare Books

A better buy in almost anything you are shopping for, from a "new" dress to a refrigerator, may be found at the Mill Valley Church of Our Saviour's Better Buy Shop. It celebrates its fourth birthday Tuesday with an open house at the store on Shoreline Highway and Poplar Avenue, Tamalpais Valley.

Fur coats and bikinis, skis and lederhosen, karate suits, snow tires, rare books and Mexican silver are some of the more exotic items which have been sold by volunteers from the church who staff the shop from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday.

At the moment men's vests are the best-selling items, but customers' needs vary from week to week as do the donations, a third of which come from Marinites not connected with the church.

The successful salvage shop — called the "Salvation Shop" by one young Tam Valley customer — has contributed about $5,000 annually to the Episcopal Churchwomen's budget for work in their parish and throughout the world. Beneficiaries this year will range from hospitals in Rhodesia to the kitchen of the Mill Valley church.



BESIDES EARNING money for church work the shop provides a community service by making good clothing and household furnishings available at reasonable prices. Each week a large box of still usable clothing is taken to Church World Service for shipment overseas, and another box of items which need repair goes to the Salvation Army.

Although the Better Buy Shop is a successful venture of all women of the Church of Our Saviour, its success has depended largely on the leadership of two women, Mrs. George Brockman and Mrs. Forest J. Sur, who have been co-chairmen since the shop's opening in 1964.

Both women have been active in church work all their lives, and during the early part of World War II Mrs. Sur was chairman of salvage for the Washoe County, Nev., Volunteer Women of America. Her group filled the entire basement of the Reno post office with clothing collected for shipment to war refugees overseas.

The wife of a geologist and mining engineer, Berniece Sur has lived all over the Western United States and Canada. She and her husband moved to Mill Valley in 1955 from Farmington, N.M., where her church group held sidewalk salvage sales for the Navajo Indians.

MARY BROCKMANN, a recent widow and grandmother of nine, had the idea for a permanent salvage shop after her third year as chairman of the church rummage sale. All her life a busy person who still finds time to teach Sunday school and work as part-time secretary in her son's Mill Valley real estate office, Mrs. Brockmann insisted that a permanent store could be staffed with volunteers even though it had been difficult to find enough workers for the once-a-year sales.

She also gave the shop its name, "Better Buy" — after one churchwoman kept insisting that better merchandise was needed for a permanent shop than for a rummage sale. Now silver is polished, chipped dishes disposed of, watches and clocks repaired, clothing mended, and the shop really lives up to its name.

Along with Mrs. Brockmann and Mrs. Sur a group of regulars works at the store every Monday straightening the stock, pricing new donations, decorating windows and putting things in order. One of these women, Mrs. Donald Dunn, was hired as a part-time manager last fall.

Other regulars are Mesdames Edgar Edwards, Fred Cleaveland, Robert Harshberger and Donald Churchfield. Mrs. Michael Leonis does the bookkeeping for the shop.

Is White Shirt On Way Out?

NEW YORK (UPI) — The white shirt may be going the way of the old stick pin. Today's favorite color is blue.

One major shirtmaker and haberdasher finds that fewer than four of every 10 shirts it sells is white, compared with eight of every 10 five years ago. The merchandise manager attributed the change to the growing popularity of more elaborate colored and styled suits which demand shirts of stronger contrast.

Three Roles Set Stage For Wives

Every wife's life can be compared to a revolving stage — a play in three acts, according to Marie Taylor Mills, vice president of Mount San Antonio College in Walnut.

Speaking before a seminar for business and professional women, Mrs. Mills said the prerequisite for starring in the three acts is a positive mental attitude.

"Our first act is in our home, which is a creation of our personality, our dreams, our values. It's many times the philosophy of our life. Frequently you can walk into a home and tell who lives there by seeing the pictures, the chairs and the coloring.

"Our second act is a very important one — support of a husband in his job."

WOMEN OF Mill Valley's Episcopal Church of Our Saviour celebrated the fourth anniversary of the founding of its shop with an open house Tuesday at the shop located in Tamalpais Valley. It was also the birthday of one of the founders, Mrs. Sur, who has just handed the first piece of anniversary cake to Mrs. George Brockmann, the other founder. From left are Mesdames Edgar Edwards, Robert Harshberger and Donald Dunn, the part-time manager.

Consular Corps Ladies Are Honored

By MOLLY MARIN

A coffee at the home of Mrs. Franklin A. McWilliam in San Francisco Wednesday morning honored ladies of the consular corps. Mrs. Thomas Kearney of Mill Valley and Mrs. Jarvis Gates of Sausalito are committee members of the Auxiliary to the International Institute, which sponsored the event. Among 30 guests from San Francisco's consular corps was Frau Siegfried Von Nostitz of Belvedere, whose husband is the German Consul General. Mrs. Ian Landon-Lane, also of Belvedere, wife of the New Zealand Consul, says she always appreciates the opportunity the auxiliary brings to meet American women and the other ladies of the consular corps at the informal coffee.

Discussed over the coffee cups was the gourmet gala which the organization has scheduled for May 8 at the Cannery in San Francisco. This event benefits the International Institute's service project, a program of assistance to immigrants coming to the Bay Area. Also in the works is a "miniature gala," a preview of the fund-raising event, to which members of the consular corps and their wives are invited on March 13. This party will be held at the International Institute's headquarters in San Francisco.

STEPHANIE WICKHAM, who will be married to Reed Witt on Saturday, was honored at two parties on the weekend. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Wickham of Mill Valley, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. John Witt of Larkspur.

Barbara Breeze and Marcia Johnson, who traveled with Stephanie in Europe last year, and Mrs. Thomas O'Neill, the former Gail Harrington, were hostesses at a shower at the Johnson home in Mill Valley Saturday evening. Guests were Kathy Bloom, Virginia Goodrich, Leslie Moller, Tassie Harms, Jill Rutledge and Mary Cook.

Sunday, Stephanie and Reed were guests of honor at an unusual party hosted by Mr. and Mrs. John T. Sullivan at their home in Mill Valley. The gift from friends gathered for the occasion was a quantity of gourmet items and staples to stock the kitchen cupboards of the couple's San Anselmo apartment, where they will reside when they return from their honeymoon.

Brunch guests included Messrs. and Mesdames George Wickham, Robert Rudebeck, Jack Bloom, Robert Fitzhenry, William O. Weissich, Warren Harms, Wally Laster, William Fleming, James Rutledge, Melvin Klyce, Jack Witt, Robert Ryan, Edward Lane, James Phelps and Alvin Johnson; Mesdames Barbara Ward and Jean McCauley; Messrs. Paul Hilkovsky and George Wickham Jr.; Nancy and Terry Sullivan and Miss Mirja Forsstrom, a Finnish student who is residing with the Sullivan family.

ON A WEDDING trip to the Hawaiian Islands are the Carl Hopes of Corte Madera. Mrs. Hope is the former Vrela Shy of Greenbrae.

Sports And Politics Are Guild Leader's Activities

New president of the Marinwood Guild of the Louise Boyd Marin Museum of Science is Mrs. John A. McIntosh who lists skiing, golf, swimming and politics as her favorite activities.

Dorothy McIntosh, whose husband is in the mortgage banking business, is the mother of a daughter, Lisa, and son, John.

A graduate of the University of Washington, the new president is also active in the American Association of University Women, First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael and is an assistant Brownie leader in Lucas Valley.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

This Square Student Wants To Put Himself Into A Round Hole

DEAR HELEN:

I'm in college on a scholarship and working part time. This year I bunked up with three guys like me and we lived cheap: about $60 a month each for rent and grits. Hamburger Haven, that's us.

I've got this offer to move in next year with two of the boneheads I'm tutoring. They're loaded. It's an apartment like you wouldn't believe. Girls go for it. These guys sweep 'em off the doorstep.

It will cost plenty, but I can make some of the tab up in tutoring. Besides I'm tired of being a poor but honest grind. In two years, I have had exactly three dates because I didn't have the time; I was always broke; and girls don't exactly fall all over me.

Sure, I know these guys will use me as their educational security, and I may have to borrow, or work several jobs to hack it. They spent more on beer than I did on food this year. But I've got a mighty yen to live in the pink before I die.

What is your honest opinion? — TIRED OF POVERTY ROW

DEAR TIRED:

My honest opinion, and I hate to say it, is that you'd be as out of place in this set-up as Twiggy modeling for an "I Dreamed I Went Walking" ad. You'd end up wetnurse to a couple of numbskulls and you'd go broke besides, especially if you tried to join them on the girls and beer circuit. A self-supporting college man who lives in the pink, ends up in the red. — H.

DEAR HELEN:

What would you do with a teacher who goes into a raging fit about things that can't be helped, or when they are her fault? When she goofs up on assignment, she blames us and makes the whole class do it over. If a student has made a lot of errors, she reads his paper to the class very sarcastically, and then calls him up to get it.

She ranted for ten minutes about students who move in from other schools and then move out in a week or two, as if it were their fault, instead of their parents!

The thing that gets me most is her attitude toward the class. She will stand up and yell, "You are a roomful of ignorant pigs; it's a waste of taxpayers' money trying to teach imbeciles." Things like that.

She never explains anything, and even A students are getting C's from her. She forgets she has had over 60 years to learn what she knows while we've had only about 15 or 16. She seems to take special pleasure in knocking down the college-bound students, so they won't make the required 3-point average.

What can we do? — ALARMED

DEAR ALARMED:

If you are sure you have a case, form a delegation and take it to your principal. Teachers are human. They grow old, tired and sometimes bitter. They aren't always in the right. It's a principal's job to see they don't go too far wrong. I think he'll hear you out.—H.

A New Ballet Company Makes Debut In New York City Center

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to start a ballet company and, unlike most patronesses of the art, you don't have a bottomless bank account, you do what Barbara Weisberger does. You ask everybody for money.

For four or five years the blue-eyed, reddish-haired wife of a Wilkes-Barre, Pa., building contractor has chatted with women's groups, cajoled foundations and converted men to the ballet cause at their club meetings with her moving recitation of the sad plight of the dancers.

ALL HER efforts paid off Monday night when her young and robust Pennsylvania Ballet Company made its successful New York debut at the City Center. The audience reception would have sounded highly enthusiastic even without the busloads of partisan Philadelphians who came to cheer their team.

"This was a big step," says Mrs. Weisberger, "but if you want to get established as a first rank national company, you must come to New York. It takes guts to do it. But it was going to happen sooner or later, and we're in the habit of doing things sooner."

NEXT YEAR the troupe, which this season is giving 14 performances at home in the Philadelphia Academy of Music, will go on a national tour.

Mrs. Weisberger, young-looking 40, is the mother of a teenage boy and girl who have no interest in dancing careers. When she was a youngster in Brooklyn she started studying at the School of American Ballet, then went to the Metropolitan Opera ballet company.

BARBARA WEISBERGER, director of the Pennsylvania Ballet Company, supervises the dancers in the troupe as they run through their paces. She opened a professional ballet school in 1962 in Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania Ballet Company, which made its successful debut this week in New York, is an outgrowth of the school. (AP Wirephoto)

Basic Gray

Gray flannel like navy blue used to be a spring color classic. Some designers still consider gray a basic beauty, although the new spring combination most favored is brown and white. Jacques Tiffeau of Tiffeau & Busch, New York, used the flannel in short-sleeved, two-piece dresses, and in shaped one-piece dresses with wide patent belts.

Decorating Small Room?

Think big in decorating a small room.

Too often a small room prompts the use of quite small furniture and accessories. While heavy looking pieces should be avoided, the room need not take on the appearance of a doll house. A few large items create an almost spacious look.

This advice applies equally well to wall decor. Wall accessories should harmonize with furnishings in size as well as color and style, and balanced effect is easily achieved with the use of an arrangement of varying sizes of pictures an mirrors.

Excessive Frosting

Excessive frosting in refrigerators may be caused by a leak in the rubber seal around the door or the temperature control may be too low.

Mrs. Arthur Andrews of Novato, the bride's sister, was her matron of honor, and bridesmaids were Andrina Ruzick of Novato and Mrs. Sherrie Brown of Rohnert Park. They wore matching floor length gowns of American beauty velvet. Elka Forsyth of Benicia was the flower girl.

Donald B. Forsyth of Benicia was best man and ushers were Arthur Andrews of Novato and James C. Ellis and Steven W. Ellis of Stinson Beach.

A reception was held at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant.

The bride was graduated from Novato High School and College of Marin. She is employed with McGraw-Hill Publishing Company. Mrs. James Haney of Novato is her grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Ellis of Stinson Beach are the bridegroom's parents. Mrs. Myrtle Morse of Roseville is his grandmother. He was graduated from Tamalpais High School and College of Marin and will be graduated from San Francisco State College in June. He will be commissioned as an officer in the Air Force.

Parisian Designers Show Sleeve Trend

By JOAN DEPPA

PARIS (UPI)—Little trends that can make or mar the average woman's wardrobe are springing up all over Paris this season.

For instance, there is the gentle slide away from the simple sleeveless dress in favor of a sundress-type bodice or definite sleeves.

That doesn't mean a woman shouldn't buy a sleeveless dress if it really becomes her. It means she also should stay alert for an equally becoming outfit with neat short sleeves or a sort of bib neckline with straps that cross over at the back.

Both look like becoming new classics while the little sleeveless dress fades quietly away to be remembered as part of the look of the 1960s.

UNLIKE THE hemline which can be raised or lowered with relative ease—and which fashion this season leaves to the customer's discretion—sleeves can be a pretty crucial thing.

It's significant to note that all the major designers put little short sleeves on their classic beaded gowns, which are meant as a fashion investment to be worn season after season.

Chanel, the classic couturier, showed little blouses with her suits this season that were cut like modest sundresses with neat button-down straps. Courreges, the avant-garde of the avant-garde, showed only a small white bra with his suits.

Another apparent trend is the move towards more important shoulders. That does not mean the wide padded shoulders of the 1940's, just emphasized shoulders.

Another time they add an important yoke or collar. Yves St. Laurent showed a perfectly simple little black dress with snug-fitting waist and full skirt that had a huge white square collar extending out over the shoulders. He also displayed a whole line of dresses with huge poncho effects edged in Swiss embroidery to contrast with the long slim line of the dress down to the hemline edged in the same embroidery.

PATOU MADE a series of little black and navy dresses with white yokes down to the bust line and short little white sleeves cut to the same length.

MESSAGE PAINTING — This work — an experiment in using line to express emotion — is a sample of the unexpected in the Marin Museum Association-sponsored group show at the Civic Center.

ART REVIEW

Lack Of Inhibitions Remarkable In Show

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Artists today seem desperate to find ways of ridding themselves of programmed inhibitions and other assorted hangups which prevent them from expressing "their thing."

However, the local artists in the Marin Museum Association-sponsored show through February at the Civic Center just aren't bothered by that sort of problem. True, there's a rather noticeable lack of technical skill, control and perfection of style. But what they say, they state with a freedom and directness that is strictly personal.

Even in this huge group show (160 pieces in all) there is no special trend. Perhaps the most consistent subgroup within it is devoted to rick rack, yarn and seam binding combined into abstract designs and coordinated with fine line drawing that hints of psychedelic influences.

But neither these nor any of the other works are slave to fashion. Though some artists, with their heavy rainbows of color, seem to be building toward hard-edge, theirs is more the jagged-edge variety. And geometric shapes are seldom crisp or hard. The paint in these usually bleeds the line or the form is made softly with torn paper or a crumpled gum wrapper.

Actually, these artists are unfettered even by conventional logic. The reasoning they employ is purely their own and when it's so attractively presented, who's to argue that alpacas and elephants aren't made of cut-up magazine pictures, nor gardens constructed from dead things that once grew there.

Not only is their logic attractive, it is really very reasonable. If, for instance, you build a group of buildings on a hill and their bases conform to the slant, then it follows that when the buildings are fifteen stories high, they'll look like multi-directional Leaning Towers of Pisa.

The several highly contemporary portraits follow the same line. They are dressed appropriately, such as a boy who wears paisley pants, tie and eyes, a furry rug vest, corduroy boots and a foil shirt. Or their location is made clear, as is one girl's garden setting by the big, very real snail glued to her foot. This collage also has provocative symbolism with its copper penny sun and a touch of mystery with its Wrigley wrapper that's just sort of there.

Eighty per cent of the show is non-objective but if there is a recurrent theme, it is animals. Certainly the sculptors in the group seem most dedicated to the idea. It is also here that realism is most closely followed, although color selection seems a more personal matter.

There is a papier mache hippo done in purple and white, a blue and green dinosaur and a fiery-red rabbit, plus a few rare species such as the navy-blue horned and bug-eyed ball with sawtooth fringe around its verdant face and snout.

But real is relative, and it depends on how much an artist makes you believe and enjoy it. These do. And so it shouldn't bother anyone that the oldest artist of the group is 12 years of age.

Nor should it bother anyone that this show is the result of a Marin Museum Association project sending 200 well - trained volunteers into Marin's schools to teach the basics of color, texture, line, etc. from prints of master works. Their talks are followed up by the children's own experiments expressing these concepts in their own terms and the variety and freedom in these results speak eloquently for the project.

Firehouse Ramp Report Expected

Driectors of the Tiburon Fire District will hear an engineering report tonight on building a ramp at the main firehouse.

The board meets at 7:30 p.m. at the firehouse on Tiburon Boulevard.

Philip A. Lygren, engineer, will present cost figures for a concrete ramp to connect with a sidewalk along Tiburon Boulevard to be built by the city.

Damaged Pump Repair Expected

Three vital water pumps, vandalized during this week's heavy rains, will probably be back in working order by this evening, according to San Rafael Public Works Director Norris Rawles, in time ofr the rains expected tomorrow.

The pumps at the Francisco Boulevard pumping station stopped working between 10 a.m. and noon Monday, at the height of the rainstorm. An old tire casing was found in one, a two-foot piece of wood in a second and some "foreign matter" in the third.

Rawles said one of the pumps was put back in service Monday night. The other two were repaired in San Francisco, at a cost of several hundred dollars, and Rawles said he expected them to be re-installed and back in sevice by this evening.

Driverless Car Rolls, Crashes

Even cars without drivers can get into traffic accidents.

A driverless station wagon in Marin City rolled backwards down Cole Drive yesterday, hitting the front of a parked car owned by Charlie Turner Jr., of 64 Cole Drive, at 7:35 p.m., the California Highway Patrol reported.

The station wagon was registered to A. C. Johnson, of 979 Drake Avenue, according to patrolmen.

Two Vietnam Observers Critical Of U.S. Efforts

By ALAN JONES

Our touted pacification program in South Vietnam isn't working and probably isn't going to, two specialists on Vietnam told a Mill Valley Forum audience last night.

"So I don't think we are going to win in Vietnam," William A. Nighswonger said.

Nighswonger said pacification will fail because there is no American consensus behind it. He is author of "Rural Pacification in Vietnam" and spent two years as a civilian aid representative there.

'YELLOW PERIL'

"Too many people in America are willing to use any weapon to wipe out the yellow peril," he said, "and there are too many who want us to get the hell out of Asia."

Village pacification is the program in which Viet villagers are to be won to our side by protecting them from the Viet Cong, settling them in secure areas and making them self-sufficient under protection of the Saigon government.

Color slides taken in Vietnam by Nighswonger and the other speaker, Orville Schell, showed the problems.

BOMBING DAMAGE

Schell's aerial pictures showed wide-ranging devastation resulting from American bombing and artillery attacks on a northern province, while Nighswonger's pictures showed refugee villagers struggling with inadequate food and supplies as they tried to rebuild in a new area.

"I don't see how pacification can possibly succeed" so long as it is tied to the military, Schell said. "We've got the wrong team over there running things.

An excess of firepower is largely to blame, Nighswonger said. Security from the Viet Cong is the heart of pacification, but "you don't get security for a peasant by killing him," he said. Nighswonger told of one village which was relocated and promised supplies to rebuild on the new site. Instead, villagers couldn't even get food for two weeks, he said. Pacification officials could not get supplies because of military priorities, lack of transportation and graft.

FLEE U.S. RAIDS

The vast majority of refugees in Vietnam, Schell said, are fleeing American bombing and artillery, not the Viet Cong.

He said the Army's I Corps had made a "free fire zone" of most of one northern province, meaning troops and fliers can attack at will anything that moves in the area.

"It's hard to say you're for American involvement in Vietnam after seeing how we've mismanaged it," Nighswonger said. "But I am for . . . responsible involvement." He blamed mismanagement of the situation on our military and civilian bureaucracies.

PESSIMISTIC OUTLOOK

Schell, who has been to Vietnam four times as an observer and correspondent, said our involvement is "well intended," but unfortunately is bound to what the military arm does. And the military, he said, is incompetent to handle pacification.

The program eventually must be handled by the Vietnamese, he said, but "they aren't getting any more ready to take it on."

"I don't see how pacification can possibly succeed, given the situation," he said.

Weathermen Plan Attempt To Tame A '68 Hurricane

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The weatherman will attempt to take the meanness out of a witch next season

All hurricanes are given female names—all are considered witches.

The meteorologists hope that by cloud seeding they can tame one far out at sea before it hits a populous area.

The hurricane-taming project was presented by R. Cecil Gentry, director of Project Stormfury of the National Hurricane Research Laboratory, Miami, Fla.

The weathermen will try to modify hurricanes by using silver iodide crystals dropped from planes to increase the freezing rate of water drops in super-cooled clouds. They hope this will cause a reduction in the wind speed by spreading the storm's energy over a larger area.

The meteorologists also heard a report from scientists attempting to more accurately predict the coming and going of the monsoon season in the southern part of Vietnam around Saigon.

The beginning of the monsoon rains last May was accurately forecast by new methods developed by Iver A. Lund of the Air Force Cambridge Research Laboratories, Bedford, Mass.

Working with a colleague, Donald D. Grantham also of the Cambridge Laboratories, Lund developed his methods by observing that high and low pressure areas over Vietnam and Southeast Asia contributed to a late or early change of the monsoon season.

Long term weather records indicated the monsoons usually began or ended during a four week interval in late April or early May and in late November or early December. The new methods more eccurately predicted when during the four week interval this would occur.

The weathermen also heard scientists report that accurate weather forecasting on a global basis is now within man's grasp.

750 To Sing In Music Festival

The choral concert will begin at 3 p.m. at the Terra Linda High School gymnasium.

Byron Jones and Lewis Jones, choir directors for San Rafael schools, will direct the concert which will include folk songs, spirituals, classic choral works and a calypso.

All choirs will join to sing "All Earth Be Glad" with a brass accompaniment as the finale of the program.

Profits from the festival will finance a weekly musical program in district schools by music faculty members and guest musicians.

Pueblo Crisis Brings Mild Recruiting Rise

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The hijacking of the USS Pueblo seems to have set off no stampede by American youth to join the colors, but it has prompted a number of veterans to think about re-enlisting, a UPI survey showed today.

Most of the armed service recruiters contacted across the nation said that they got a lot of inquiries and some recruits, but not many more than what one termed "the usual January rush."

RENO RUSH

The notable exception was at Reno where Air Force M/Sgt. Stanley Dorman declared, "Patriotism is not dead." He said he had been getting a "steady stream of phone calls" and had a long waiting list.

Reno's Navy recruiter said he had a backlog of potential white hats extending to August. "Young kids are just flocking in, trying to quit school, but we are taking only the top two mental groups." The Army, too, reported recruiting was "very active ...but it usually is when something like this happens."

One reason for the Reno experience probably is that an Air National Guard unit from the area was among those called to active duty by President Johnson last week.

Elsewhere around the nation, recruiters reported some upsurge in interest among eligible young men but few of them attributed it to the Pueblo crisis.

JANUARY RUSH

In South Dakota, for example, the Navy recruiter said there was the "normal January rush" of boys dropping out of college at the semester break. The Army recruiter attributed the increased interest in his service to the end of the holidays and the hunting season, not the world situation.

In Boston, there was a 25 per cent increase in Navy enlistments, but the recruiting officer thought it was "mostly prompted by fear of the draft."

In Columbus, Ohio, the influx of youth was about normal but the day after the Pueblo was captured the Air Force recruiter said several ex - servicemen called to get information about re-enlisting and even some retired servicemen tried to join up.

A few retired Navy pilots called the Detroit recruiting office to say they might be available if needed, but most recruiters agreed with the Army man who said, "Everybody seems to be taking it cool and hoping the powers that be are taking the right steps."

The Navy recruiter at Trenton, N.J., reported "some additional inquiries" in the wake of the Pueblo incident "but they are not banging down the doors."

Nearly all the recruiting offices polled reported that exservicemen, some of them veterans of World War II, had called around to find about reenlisting. In Sacramento, upwards of 120 veterans sought to join up again.

No one had any explanation for this, although one Marine recruiter said it was usually the case during any national emergency.

Congressmen Scold NASA For Apollo Fire Laxity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Senate report charged yesterday that evasiveness by government space officials compounded by "overconfidence and complacency" contributed to the Apollo spacecraft fire which took the lives of three U.S. astronauts a year ago.

The Senate Space Committee sternly criticized the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) for failing to advise Congress of pre fire problems with North American Aviation, the prime contractor for the Apollo.

Individually, Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and Charles H. Percy, R-Ill., filed even harsher separate reports.

Mondale noted a report to NASA on North American's alleged production shortcomings in late 1965 but that Congress was not given the information.

Said Mondale: "NASA's performance—the evasiveness, the lack of candor, the patronizing attitude exhibited toward Congress, the refusal to respond fully and forthrightly to legitimate congressional inquiries, and the solicitous concern for corporate sensitivities at a time of national tragedy—can only produce a loss of congressional and public confidence in NASA programs. And neither NASA nor the nation can afford such a loss."

Brooke and Percy said: "We are disturbed at the possibility that had there been no disaster, important shortcomings in management, scheduling, design, production and quality control might never have come to light."

Bomb Placed; A Mace Warning

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A bomb was placed in the Board of Supervisors chamber in an apparent protest against use of mace, an eye-stinging chemical, by police, authorities say.

An unidentified man telephoned and said: "The bomb in the chambers was a warning—no mace in San Francisco," Board Secretary Robert Dolan reported.

The chemical has been sprayed against unruly demonstrators.

Wallace Backers In Falling Out

BAKERSFIELD (AP) — Two men claim title today as state chairman of George C. Wallace's American Independent Party in California.

The Rev. Alvin Mayall of Bakersfield said yesterday he received congratulations from the former Alabama governor and recognition as Wallace's political leader in California.

His claim was disputed by William K. Shearer, who has held the post.

Mayall said an election was held Saturday at Fresno.

Shearer said he wired Wallace he would go to court to prevent Mayall from claiming the office.

Two-Valve Heart Patient Dies

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — A 33-year-old mother of five died yesterday only 10 days after receiving a double heart valve a transplant operation.

A brief communique from a Johannesburg nursing home said Mrs. Hilda White succumbed during the day. Her condition had deteriorated sharply over the past 48 hours.

The surgery on Mrs. White was the first of its type to be carried out in South Africa. Eight of the delicate operations have been performed in New Zealand over the past three months.

Six of the New Zealand patients survived.

LBJ To Seek New Law Curbing Travel Costs

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Johnson will ask Congress to enact a series of tax steps to discourage overseas travel by Americans, including one based on daily spending abroad, sources said yesterday.

The plan—part of the administration's fight to curb the balance of payments loss—is expected to be offered the House Ways and Means Committee on Monday.

Sources indicated that a daily spending ceiling of possibly $10 will be recommended. A tax would be levied on those U.S. travelers who spend more than that. It was not immediately learned how much of a tax would be sought.

The tourist tax package, sources said, is still in the planning stage. Tentatively it includes, in addition to the spending levy, extending the present 5 per cent tax on domestic airline tickets to overseas flights.

These sources said the spending tax surcharge under consideration probably would be a tax for people spending more than the daily limit. The sources also said that there may be a maximum ceiling proposed on tourist spending.

If Congress goes along with the plans under consideration, Americans probably would be asked to report their spending to customs officials at ports of entry. There also is under consideration a plan to ask Americans to report their travel spending along with their annual income tax returns.

Also part of the package under consideration is a proposal to lower the present $100 maximum in merchandise that an American may bring home duty-free.

Americans now may also mail home $10 worth of gifts without paying a duty. This plan is targeted for elimination — although sources said that servicemen probably will be allowed to continue the mail-home privilege.

In a New Year's statement, Johnson ordered sharp reductions in U. S. investments abroad and asked all Americans to restrict their vacation travel to the western hemisphere in an effort to reduce the huge U. S. balance of payments deficit.

Perjury Charge In Collections

OAKLAND (UPI) — Charles Lowenthal, collection manager of a San Francisco loan company, pleaded innocent yesterday to perjury charges brought in connection with collection suits he filed in Oakland.

Lowenthal, 31, was arrested Tuesday on six counts of perjury. The complaint alleged he filed suits in Oakland against debtors from Sonoma and San Francisco counties, alleging they lived in Alameda County.

California Women's, Children's Pay Rises

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — More than 400,000 California employers of women will begin paying a minimum wage of $1.65 today, an increase of 35 cents and the highest in the seven western states.

At the same time, a new federal minimum wage goes into effect. It will pay a basic hourly wage of $1.60 to persons employed on an interstate commerce job.

Both laws will also cover minors up to the age of 18. The California children's hourly minimum will be $1.35, up from $1.05.

But when the minor is employed in interstate commerce work, he will receive the federal minimum, according to Miss Jean Butcher, the assistant chief of the California Division of Industrial Welfare in San Francisco.

The two laws will cover 2 million women and children now working.

ONE EXCEPTION

Miss Butcher said the only exception under the new state law, approved by the last legislature, will be household domestics.

"However the commission could cover them, if it elected to do so," she said, adding its authority extends to all of the California private labor force.

What the impact of the new California minimum wage means to employers remains unclear, Miss Butcher said, since no study has been done on past increases.

Her agency has no indication how many persons are now being paid less than the new minimum.

But state businessmen have said the new law will push them towards bankruptcy because surrounding states pay much less.

COMPLAINT HEARD

"How can I grow beans in this state at $1.65 when my competitor in other states pays only $1.15?" asked Howard Carver, a San Francisco business executive representing the California Retailers Association during a hearing on the measure.

His group recommended a special minimum wage for certain less skilled job categories, such as farm workers.

The California AFL-CIO argues the minimum wage should be $2, basing its contention on per capita income in California, which is 17 per cent above the national average.

Only Alaska pays a higher minimum wage, $2.10. New Jersey pays $1.65 to certain specialized farm workers.

Joint Summer Study On Agenda

A proposal for a joint Mill Valley-Sausalito summer school with classes at Edna Maguire and Alto schools in Mill Valley will be presented to the Mill Valley School District Board Monday by Supt. James A. Collins.

Children from both districts would be bused to the schools as necessary, and Sausalito would provide part of the teaching staff and some equipment for shop and home economics classes.

The joint plan worked out by the Sausalito-Mill Valley summer school committee estimates 1,200 pupils, 50 teachers and 34 student teachers from the Sausalito teacher education program would be involved.

The board will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at Park School.

Greyhound Drivers Get Safety Awards

Three Marin residents have been honored by Greyhound Lines for having driven buses thousands of miles without causing an accident.

Marvin A. Gunn of San Rafael and James W. Kimbell of Novato each have 20-year safe driving records for an estimated 500,000 miles. Irvin C. Fleckenstien of Greenbrae won a 10-year safe driving award.

Convict Stabbed In Chest By Felon Trio

A San Quentin convict was jumped by three fellow inmates and stabbed five times yesterday — the second stabbing reported from the prison this week.

Robert J. McLean Jr., 25, of Orange County was stabbed in the chest, said Associate Warden James W. L. Park, and underwent surgery in the prison hospital. His condition today was listed as "fair."

Park said McLean was attacked in the lower yard at 1:45 p.m. but officers have so far disclosed no suspects, weapon or motive.

The victim is serving a six to 10 years term for receiving stolen property and a life sentence for kidnaping with intent to commit robbery.

At 4:10 p.m. Monday, another inmate, Robert G. Garwitz, 24, was found with a stab wound in the back but was returned to his cell after treatment.

Park said today he believed at this stage the two stabbings were not connected.

Trial Slated On Drunken Driving Count

A Forest Knolls man pleaded guilty to disturbing the peace but denied driving while drunk yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Non-jury trial was set for Wednesday for Stephen J. Zorn, 21, arrested as a result of a fight in a San Rafael parking lot at 650 Las Gallinas Avenue over a traffic incident Tuesday night.

Zorn was arrested after he became belligerent to a policeman investigating a fight report.

Richard D. Elliot of Petaluma told officers Zorn drove erratically and at high speed past his truck near Highway 101. Elliot said this angered him and he followed Zorn, also driving a truck, to the parking lot.

A fight erupted and Patrick Hansen of Petaluma, Elliot's companion suffered a cut forehead which required treatment at Marin General Hospital.

Graduation Set At Guide Dogs

Guide Dogs for the Blind in San Rafael will graduate a class of 11 persons at 2:30 p.m. Saturday.

The graduates are Clarence Booher of Tuscon, Ariz.; Curtis Delzer of Lodi; Merle Griffy, Mrs. Sharon Peterson and Miss Dawn Cooper, all of Sacramento; Lollian Hildebrand of Bakersfield; Dr. John Jensen of Santa Maria, Santa Barbara County; Irving Johnson of Pocatello, Ida.; Mrs. Hilde Muller of Fremont; Mrs. Marian Sansum of Pomona, and Mrs. Suzanne Shown of Santa Clara.

Dogs will be presented to the graduates, followed by an obedience demonstration and a tour of kennels. The public is invited.

Explorerama Marin Will Feature Ceylon

"Ceylon, the Magic Island," the second of a series of film lectures under the title "Explorerama Marin," will be presented Feb. 8 at 8:15 p.m. in Olney Hall on the College of Marin campus.

The travel film will be narrated by its producer, Ed Lark. The series is jointly sponsored by the Explorers Club of San Francisco and the Associated Students of the College of Marin.

New Location For Bookmobile

The Marin County bookmobile, which formerly stopped at Loma Verde School on the second and fourth Tuesdays, will stop at the Pacheco Plaza across the highway from Nave Lanes, beginning Feb. 13.

Virginia Keating, Marin County librarian, said the change was made at the request of citizens in the area.

The new stop will be near the church in Pacheco Plaza on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m.

TREE TAKES REVENGE

Mill Valley's namesake landmark, the old lumber mill in Old Mill Park was damaged Tuesday night when a bay tree fell on it, caving in the roof of the weatherbeaten structure. The mill was built in 1836 to provide boards to construct the Mill Valley house of John Reed, pioneer landowner.

Robert Johnson Plans To Seek Novato Post

Robert G. Johnson, 46, of 1414 Hill Street, Novato, yesterday took out candidate's papers for the April 9 municipal elections.

Johnson was among the 19 candidates for the original Novato City Council when the city was incorporated eight years ago. He ran again unsuccessfully in 1962.

He has served on the Novato Planning Commission for seven years. He has also served one year on the Marin County Grand Jury.

Active in organized labor, he is a former president of the Tile Layers Union Local 19 in San Francisco.

Johnson was born in White Swan, Wash., and completed high school there. He is a member of Yakima, Wash., Masonic Lodge 24 and of the Novato Chapter 609 Order of Eastern Star. He has been active in scouting.

He and his wife, Nancy June, have five children: Gary who is marrier and in the Coast Guard at Port Townsend, Wash.; Edward, 19; Robert, 17; Donald, 13, and Jayne, 9.

Johnson becomes the sixth person to take out papers for the three positions open on the Novato City Council. The others are: Mayor J. Wayne Womack and Councilman Douglas M. Merrill, both incumbents; Wayne Hathaway and Joseph Bonomolo, both of whom have run before and Joseph Garguilo.

The Independent-Journal yesterday incorrectly listed Garguilo as having run before. He has been a member of the Marin Junior College board, but this is his first attempt at a city council seat.

Medal And Check For Heroic Action

A Novato patrolman who saved two boys, but failed to save their brother, from a burning house on May 24, 1966, has been awarded a silver medal and $1,000 by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission.

Patrolman Vernon L. Davies of the Novato Police Department, arrived at the burning house of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Bornhold at 2136 Center Road, Novato, and was told that the three Foley boys who were spending the night, were still inside.

Davies rescued two of the boys in their bedroom, handing them out of the window to other people. Turning back into the burning bedroom for the third time, he failed to find the boy, Patrick, who died in the flames.

Davies himself was pulled out of the window of the bedroom as he groped to it for air.

He was commended by the Novato City Council for his heroic action. On Nov. 1, 1966, he was presented a plaque as Marin County's outstanding policeman of the year by Mrs. Lavinia Foley and her rescued sons, Kevin, now 14, and Gregory, now 11.

Mrs. Foley nominatef Davies for the Carnegie award, he said today.

Reed Trustees Want Four Hilarita Acres

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Reed Union School District trustees voted 4-1 last night to negotiate with the Marin County Housing Authority to buy "approximately four acres" of the Hilarita Housing Project.

Trustee Leo Souza dissented, arguing that the district should buy more than four acres "because we told the voters they'd get six to 10 acres when they voted the bonds." Trustee Alyce Farkas countered that the rest of the available land was "too steep to be usable for school purposes."

The Housing Authority plans to retain only five of the 15 acres in the project for moderate priced housing, and to sell the rest for single-family housing and, possibly, to sell one acre to Belvedere Nursery School.

COMMITTEE NAMED

Chairman James B. Atkin appointed a negotiating committee comprised of vice chairman Kingsley L. Rice Jr., Supt. H. Joe Edgington and Asst. Supt. William G. Vanasen.

The $175,000 appropriated to expand the nine-acre Reed School site into the housing project originally anticipated buying six to 10 acres, noted Atkin in a hint that he expected considerably less than the appropriated sum to be expended.

The money to buy the housing project parcel will come from the $1.6 million bond measure passed in June by district voters.

APPRAISALS SECRET

Appraisals have been made of the land, Atkin said, "but they are confidential because their disclosure would be against the public interest in negotiating a sale price," he added.

The trustees' vote came after a citizens committee recommended that the district acquire the flat portion of the housing project southeast of the access road in the middle of the project.

The committee said the expansion "is not wholly necessary," but nevertheless it urged the site expansion to more than double the size of the present "inadequate" playground. The expansion also would delay, and perhaps even make unnecessary, development of the "presently remote and less desirable north central site" on the ridge above Hawthorne Terrace, the committee's report said.

LAND 'CUSHION'

"It is more economical to make more use of the Reed site," said committee chairman Robert S. Imel. He added that while campaign literature for the bond election "mentioned" the district might want to acquire six to 10 acres, "we can achieve just as much with a smaller acquisition."

After five months of study, the committee concluded that the district's "ultimate" enrollment will be reached by the year 2020 with 3,500 pupils, 84 per cent more than now. With the purchased of three to five acres of the housing project, the district will have enough land for 4,500 pupils, or a "cushion" of 1,000 pupils, the report said.

The figures were based on the state Department of Education's "ideal" ratios of acreage to the number of pupils, Imel said.

The population estimates were based on present zoning, Imel cautioned, and should be checked at least each five years.

The precise size of the acquisition will depend on final engineering reports which will indicate the most useable land and how much slope should be acquired to protect the level area, the committee reported.

The committee also recommended replacement of two driveways and the parking lot below the school with a new driveway and parking area above the school. This would increase the area for the playground and for future construction of classrooms, the committee said. It also recommended construction of new maintenance and storage buildings.

PLAYGROUND AREA

The acquisition, noted Edgington, would provide room for a Little League baseball diamond, basketball and volleyball courts and other playground facilities.

The only dissent to the report from the audience of 25 persons was by Mrs. Beverly Bastian, operator of the Belvedere Nursery School. The committee "made a very grave mistake" not to include the pre-school population in its projections of school population, she said. Four-year-old children will be within the school system "within 20 years," she predicted.

Imel, too, said the school system "should be able to handle them, too."

Pupils Prefer Report Cards To Parleys

Children, more than parents, want report cards, according to an experiment in the Reed Union School District.

Parents of 115 fourth and fifth grade pupils in the district's Reed School were given a choice last semester of receiving either standard report cards or of having conferences with teachers on their children's academic progress, "but it was found that the child wants the report card — not the parent," Reed principal Jack Usilton reported last night to district trustees.

PARENTS DIVIDED

About half the parents chose the conference method over report cards, Usilton said. These parents represented the top quarter and the bottom quarter of the pupils in the classes, he noted, "while the parents of the pupils in between all wanted report cards."

But soon it was founf that the pupils themselves wanted report cards, he said, "particularly the borderline children who are good, but not confident, and they want someone to tell them they are good in this way."

"Of course, some of the pupils who got report cards don't want them now," said Usilton.

LATER REPORT

The trustees lauded the experiment, and asked Usilton to report to the board at the end of the semester on its success.

Reed Union School District trustees also:

LIBRARY — Received a $500 donation from the Del Mar Intermediate School Parent-Teacher Association toward a library for the school planned at Reedland Woods.

AUDIT — Received a report from the district's auditor, Leo Jarvis, that the district's books for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1967, "are in very good condition" and included a total of $214,000 in general reserves.

READING — Received a report from Usilton that third grade pupils in Reed School who had the Initial Teaching Alphabet from the time they entered school have more misspellings but use a bigger vocabulary than children taught to read by the "phonic" technique.

RECREATION — Referred to Supt. H. Joe Edgerton a proposal by Roger Felton of the Belvedere Park and Recreation Commission that the district take over the summer recreation program.

UNIFICATION — Approved a request for up to $200 by trustee Alyce Farkas to attend California School Boards Association committee meetings outside the Bay Area concerned with supporting changes in school district unification laws.

BUDGET — Received from Edgington pre-planning budget worksheets for fixed charges and capital outlay portions of the 1968-69 school year. Both will be discussed at future board meetings.

CALENDAR — Received, but deferred action, on a proposed school calendar for next year with 181 teaching days, up two days from the current school year.

Treasurer, Clerk Take Out Papers

City of San Anselmo incumbents Mrs. Anita U. Gannon, clerk, and George William Prydz, treasurer, have taken out nomination papers for re-election at the April 9 election.

Neither had filed by noon today, however.

Mrs. Gannon, of 47 Magnolia Avenue, San Anselmo, said she is seeking her fifth term of office. She was appointed in 1952 to fill the vacancy of Erma Anderson, who retired, and has been elected three times.

Prydz, a public accountant residing at 20 Woodland Avenue, became treasurer by appointment nine years ago when Donald Woods treasurer, retired. He has been twice elected treasurer.

Audubon Outing

The Marin Audubon Society will make a field trip starting at 9:30 a.m. Sunday at the entrance to Doran County Park just south of Bodega Bay. Trippers are to bring lunch for the all-day trip.

Fire Station Bid Review Slated

The Kentfield Fire District Board last night scheduled a review of bids on construction of a new $200,000 fire station for 8 p.m. Feb. 12 at the present fire station, College Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard.

Deadline for receiving the bids is 4:30 p.m. on Monday.

The board also authorized sending the deportment's training officer, Capt. Robert G. Mariani, to the fire training officers workshop at Fresno May 13 through 17, sending fire prevention officer Rolf K. Stahlbaum to the arson and fire investigation seminar June 17 through 21 at Davis, and sending fire chief Kenneth Kamp to the California Fire Service staff and command school at Davis next Jan. 27 through 31.

Imlay Will Seek First Full Term

Sausalito councilman Alexander R. Imlay announced today he will run for election to the Sausalito city council April 9.

Imlay, of 250 Currey Lane, has served on the council since December, 1964, when he was named to finish the term of the late Carl Gabrielson.

Imlay is a partner in the San Francisco law firm of Kerner, Colangelo and Imlay and has practiced law since 1949.

A native of Niagara Falls, N. Y., Imlay has lived in Sausalito since 1951. He and his wife Marjore have two sons.

Imlay was a member of the citizens' committee appointed in the late 1950s by the city council to advise on proposed Marin City redevelopment, and also served on the Sausalito Civil Service Appeals Board. He has served on the council finance committee since joining the council.

He is the first to announce his cnadidacy. Three councilmen will be chosen for posts now held by Imlay, Mayor Mel Wax and Eleanor O'Hara Chapin.

Albert Park To Be Tourney Site

The San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission last night approved use of Albert Park baseball facilities this summer by the San Rafael Braves of the Western Baseball Association and by the Joe DiMaggio baseball tournament, Aug. 8-11.

The Braves will begin their season May 5 and continue games through Aug. 18. The league plays young ballplayers, 17 to 20 years old, and the Braves will be allowed to use Albert Park without a fee.

The recreation commissioners approved the Joe DiMaggio regional tourney, but came to no decision on what fee the tournament would be charged.

Mill Valley Papers Out For Brewster

Nomination papers for Joseph C. Brewster for the Mill Valley City Council election April 9 were taken out yesterday by Robert Robinson.

Brewster said today he is still undecided about running.

Brewster, 59, of Manzanita Place, is president and general manager of West Winds, Inc., San Francisco ship repair firm. He is a native of Oklahoma and was graduated from Emporia State Teachers College in Kansas.

During World War II he went to Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, to install power plant machinery, and on returning to the mainland in 1943, he stayed in San Francisco and went into the ship repair business. He was cofounder of West Winds in 1947.

Brewster, who is married and has two children, moved to Mill Valley in 1950. He served on the parks and recreation commission six years and was chairman two years. He was organizer and first president of the Southern Marin Horsemen's Association, is a member and past president of the Mill Valley Lions Club, and is on the board of trustees of Mill Valley Comunity Church.

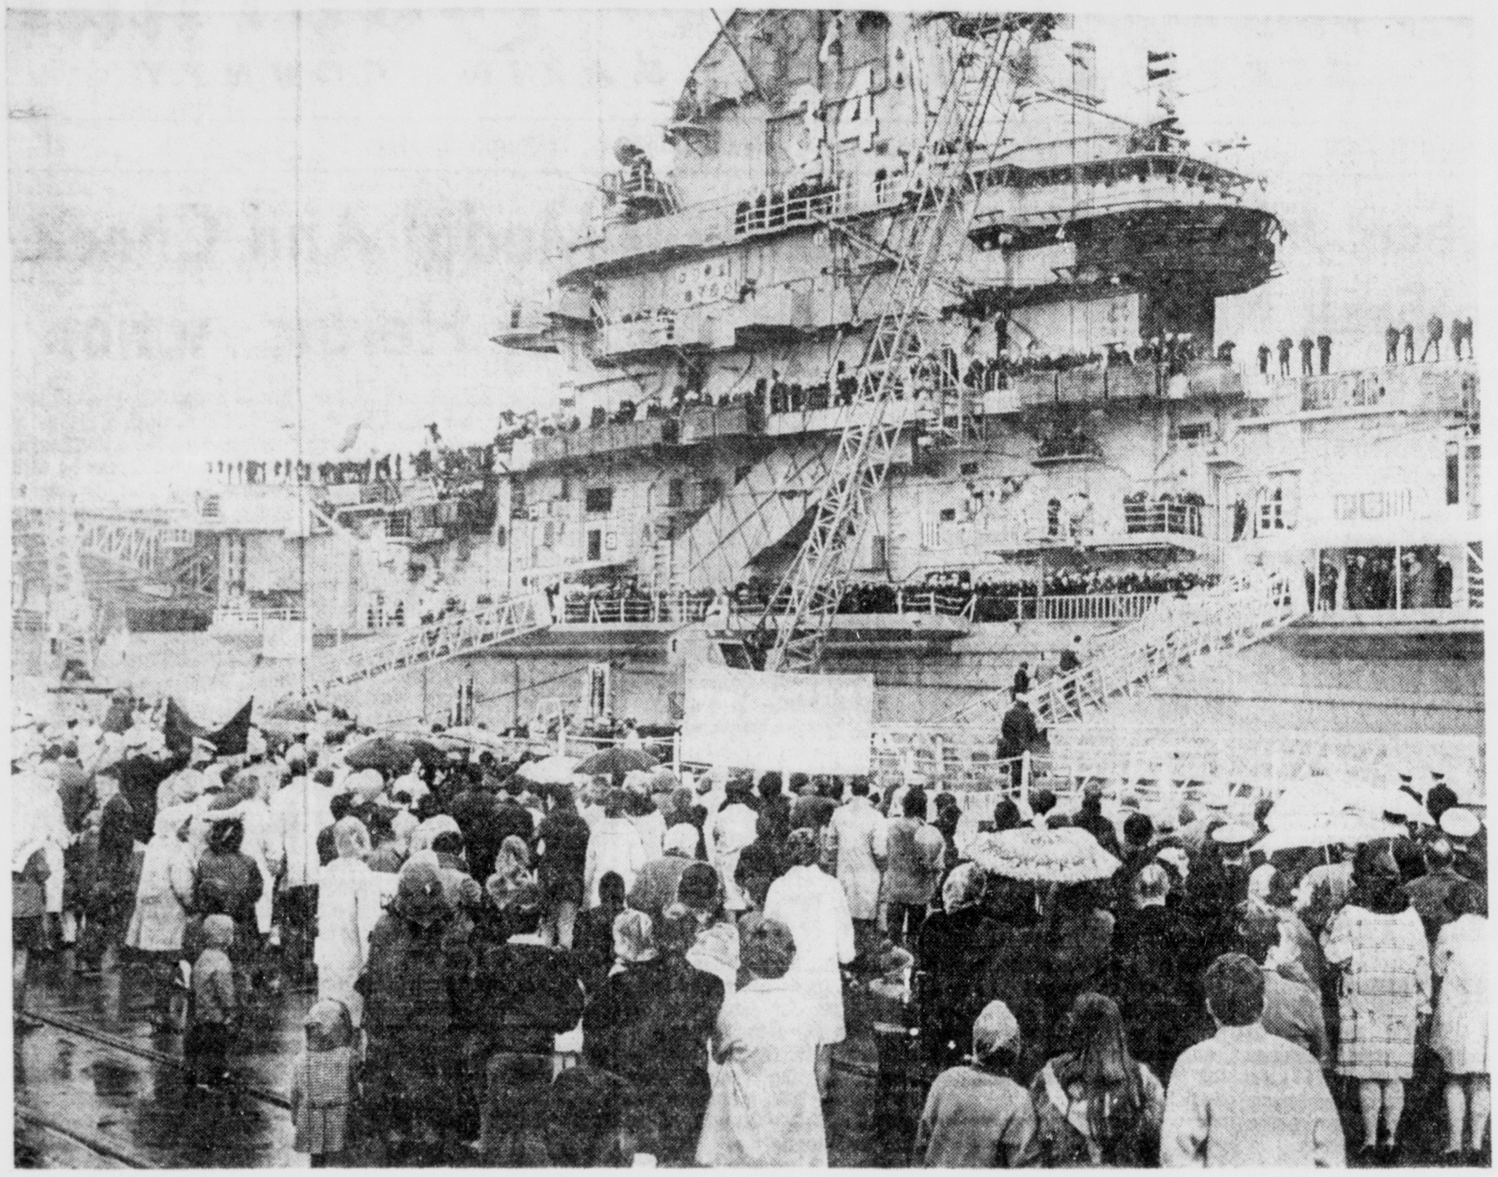
Arrival Of Oriskany Reunites A Family From Marin



BACK FROM WAR — The aircraft carrier Oriskany docked at the Alameda Naval Air Station yesterday morning after seven months of action off Vietnam to a warm welcome in the rain. Crew members line the rails and families line the dock, some waving banners.

SCANNING THE SHIP — Mrs. Philip Bill, waiting at dockside, peers at the ship to see if she can spot her husband.

Independent-Journal
SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

GANG'S ALL HERE — Bill, with only cap and arms visible, is virtually engulfed in greeting by (from the left) his daughter Sherry, 5; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Howard Cushman of San Anselmo; his wife, Beverly; his 7-year-old son, Philip, hanging on, and his 4-yearold son, Jimmy, waiting for a hug.

NEARLY THERE — The greeting party heads toward the Oriskany. They were among hundreds of families in the Bay Area to greet the returning crew at the Alameda complex.

WELCOME CARD — Sherry gives her father a Christmas card she made for him while her two brothers look on.

HEADING HOME — After his tour of duty in Vietnam Bill heads for home with Philip carrying a plane his father made for him, his wife, daughter and his brother and crew mate, Radarman 3/c Gerald Bill, carrying Jimmy.

Anselmo, arrived at 8:15, made another pot of coffee, and at 8:30 the baby sitter arrived. Mrs. Bill had decided not to take the baby onto the cold, rainy quay at Alameda. At 9 o'clock they were on their way across the San Rafael-Richmond Bridge to meet the ship.

And so were 5,000 other people, and a brass band, and cheerleaders in yellow miniskirts who drew an adequate response from the several thousand sailors lining the rails of the Oriskany. It was rainy and cold, but a big ship home from a war has a special warmth. "We're home again with all our cools, the mighty men of Y-4 fuels," said a sign hanging from a deck. "Welcome home, daddy. Love, Damon." said a responding sign hoisted aloft in the crowd.

BOY EXCITED

"I swear that's Phil under the brown sign," said Mrs. Bill, searching the railing. But she retained her calm; this was the third time her husband had come home on the Oriskany. But little Phil was not calm — he was coming out of his skin. Finally they spotted the boy's father, who was grinning and holding both hands over his head like horns to attract their attention.

Gerald Bill was still below decks, making arrangements to remove the door of the radar room so that they could get Philip's refrigerator out, but Philip came down the gangplank and greeted his wife and children. He gave Mrs. Bill a good, hard kiss, and Jimmy and Sherry a good, hard hug, but it was little Phil who was up there with his arms around his father's neck, his eyes looking as if his heart was beating hard.

RUSH ABOARD

Then everyone went aboard the ship, mothers and children streaming up the gangplanks, and in a few minutes an amazing transformation had occurred aboard the carrier. The planes had taken off from the carrier three days ago, after it passed Hawaii, and the sailors were allowed to store their Honda motorcycles and their tons of phonographs and television sets on the hangar deck. If the Oriskany had been turned around to the crisis in Korea, they would have had to push the stuff into the sea.

But the Oriskany came home and there was coffee and a big table of fresh baked, warm cookies set up on the hanger deck, and a new arrow and sign which had not been there before "powder room."

GIRLS ALL OVER

Sailors and their girls, hand in hand, strolled about the flight deck. Even far down below decks girls in modish dresses were sedately sipping coffee with the happy sailors and listening to explanations — which they did not understand — of the Oriskany's equipment.

The cheerleaders in the yellow mini-skirts made their way on board, and they set up a chant on the hanger deck. Small children were hoisted into the cockpits of planes, to play at being pilots in real airplanes. Brownie cameras were snapping pictures everywhere not classified.

BULKY GIFT

And down the gangplanks went a stream of sailors carrying off the loot from the hanger.

If it was a complete home entertainment center bought in Hong Kong, it took two sailors to carry it. Petty Officer Second Class Jay R. Bourne of Phoenix halted and said that the boxes under which he was staggering contained a Garrard Lab 80 turntable, a Kenwood 60-BU amplifier, two Coral B X speakers, two Sony tape decks, two sets, Nortaki china, an Argus slide projector, four silk wool suits, a silk wool tuxedo, three sports jackets, three wrist watches and a 48 point diamond ring. Still on board, he had an alarm clock and a grandfather clock.

Thus the Oriskany arrived at Alameda, bringing back all except the 19 pilots. Among the returnees — the two brothers from Marin who had worked side by side in the radar room for seven and one half months.

BROTHERS' VIEWS

"We had our disputes now and then," said Gerald, who had requested duty aboard the carrier, "but I was glad to be with him."

Phil, who is the more serious, sweats the pilots and takes it hard when they do not return, said, "We had a good crew and the Oriskany is one of the better carriers. We hear about the demonstrations, but I think we are doing a pretty good job over there."

The Oriskany will be in drydock at Hunter's Point at least six months, which will give the baby, Wendy, time to start looking like a real person.

Ex-Felon Denies Three Charges

John Tomakin, 27, of San Francisco, pleaded innocent in Marin Municipal Court Tuesday to charges of car theft, Marijuana possession and possession of a handgun by a ex-felon.

Preliminary hearing on the charges was set for Feb. 5 in Municipal Court.

He allegedly stole a car from a leasing agency in Long Beach. San Rafael police, who stopped the car Jan. 9, said it contained three kilos of marijuana and a loaded gun.

Yes, There Really Is Some Use For Collecting Mouse Milk

VAN DELLEN

One of our readers asked about mouse milk.

He had heard that it was sold in Vienna and brought a good price.

"Do you have any additional information on this? If there is a demand for this milk, mouse farming could be profitable."

I told him that we had not heard of this and wondered what mice had that cows did not.

AFTER we published his question, my copy of Medical World News arrived. In it was a story about a mouse milking machine that extracts one-quarter teaspoonful of milk each day. The device was developed by two researchers at the National Cancer Institute in Washington.

The investigators are working on tumor-causing viruses and mice susceptible to breast cancer usually have milk rich in viral particles. Their miniature milking machine extracts the liquid without damage to the mammary tissue of the rodent.

If our reader starts a mouse farm, he will have to be an authority on these critters because only those types susceptible to cancer will be in demand for the above mentioned project.

Friends of a retired nurse told her about a young woman who had a heart attack while pregnant. She doubts that this occurs and wants me to agree with her os that she can "save face" at the bridge club.

I wish I could, but at least three dozen cases have been reported in the medical literature. One of my colleagues cared for a woman who sustained an attack of coronary thrombosis with a recurrence while in labor.

WE ADMIT that this case is a rarity because heart attacks are not prevalent in young women. Furthermore, estrogen hormones that normally protect them from the disease are increased during pregnancy.

In the cases reported, most of the victims were over 35 and had more than one child. Many had early hardening of the coronary arteries because of high blood pressure or diabetes. A few had syphilis of the heart.

The strain of motherhood is not a factor because many heart attacks occurred during the first few months of pregnancy. In other words, the stage is set for coronary thrombosis long before the woman becomes pregnant.

PALPITATION

G. M. R. writes: What are heart palpitations?

REPLY

Palpitation is awareness of the heart beating fast or hard. It occurs in normal and abnormal hearts and may be associated with indigestion or follow excitement, nervousness, exertion, and overindulgence. Certain irregularities of the heartbeat produce an uncomfortable sensation.

CRACKS IN MEMBRANE

C. R. writes: Can you tell me something about fissures in the rectum?

REPLY

My ideas on the subject have been incorporated into a leaflet which may be obtained by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with request.

RECOVERY ENCEPHALITIS

Mrs. J. R. writes: Is complete recovery possible in encephalitis?

REPLY

Yes, but it is difficult to predict because certain after effects, such as palsy, may be delayed for several decades.

WHEN FULLY GROWN?

Mrs. S. R. writes: At what age do you attain maximum height and weight?

REPLY

Height: by age 20. Weight: ?

Kennedy Booster Group To Meet In San Anselmo

The Marin chapter of Citizens for Kennedy in 1968 will hold its February meeting at 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday at 500 Red Hill Avenue, San Anselmo.

The results of a meeting Sunday in Palo Alto of the organization's Northern California Steering Committee heads the agenda of the Marin meeting, which will be open to the public.

Attending the steering committee meeting from Marin will be William M. Taylor of San Anselmo, Northern California chairman; Joan Diamond of Sleepy Hollow, state youth chairman; Dr. Donald L. Young of Sausalito; Michael Berger and Mrs. L. A. Post of Mill Valley and William Andrus of Fairfax.

The organization, unable to get the endorsement of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, is supporting the presidential candidacy of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy with the hope that it will lead Kennedy to enter the race. It says it has 6,000 members in 50 chapters throughout the nation.

Tiny Island Is Newest Republic

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — The tiny, phosphate-rich island of Nauru, in the Southwest Pacific just south of the Equator, became one of the world's smallest independent republics at midnight Tuesday.

Five hundred islanders watched the flags of Britain, Australia and New Zealand hauled down for the last time. The three countries had administered Nauru for 21 years under a United Nations trusteeship.

Today, beneath Nauru's new blue, gold and white flag, a five-member executive council was being elected to govern the island until a constitution is drawn up.

AFL-CIO Seeks Ban On Bracero Labor

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California AFL-CIO called yesterday for a complete ban on the importation of foreign workers in 1968.

Thomas L. Pitts, secretary-treasurer of the California Labor Federation, urged Congress to bar braceros and other foreign farm workers entirely for both economic and social reasons.

Nixon Still Tops In Poll Of State

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Richard Nixon remains the favorite of California Republicans for the 1968 presidential nomination but Nelson Rockefeller has moved into a strong second position, the Mervin Field Poll said yesterday.

Field said a recent public opinion survey showed former Vice President Nixon favored by 42 per cent of GOP voters, while New York Gov. Rockefeller was the choice of 30 per cent.

Other candidates continued to decline with Gov. Ronald Reagan dropping to 11 per cent, Gov. George Romney to 9 per cent, and Sen. Charles Percy to 3 per cent.

Pro Grid Draft Completed With A Barrel Of Fun

NEW YORK (AP) — There is a certain giddiness that overtakes pro football people after more than 22 hours spread over two days of drafting the nation's top collegiate players.

The chuckles came in bunches as representatives of the National and American Leagues completed their 17 rounds of drafting last night.

There was Minnesota scoring a thigh-slapper by picking Larry Kuharich, a defensive back from Boston College, in the 16th round. If that name is familiar, it's because Larry's father, Joe, is the general manager-coach of the rival Philadelphia Eagles.

Cincinnati, utilizing one of its 42 choices, picked Miami's Joe Mira, described as the little brother of George, the San Francisco quarterback. But, of course, li'l Joe, a flanker, stands 6-foot and weighs 185 pounds, somewhat bigger than brother George.

The New York Giants gave club football a huge boost when they selected Ken Parker of Fordham University as a defensive back on the 16th go-round.

Fordham, of course, dropped varsity football some 13 years ago but went back to the sport on a club level a few years back. Parker is the first player to be drafted since the school resumed football.

There is, however, a catch. Parker is a basketball player and not listed on the Fordham football squad.

Dallas delved into the basketball market too, picking West Virginia's Ron Williams, in the 14th round and listing him as a defensive back.

The Cowboys also won the distance championship for a pick, selecting tackle Larry Cole of Hawaii in the 16th round. "I'd love the assignment to go down and recruit him," cracked a Dallas official.

There was a predictable late-round squabble when Philadelphia announced the selection of defensive back Jim Scott from Arizona in the 17th round and Cincinnati howled that he was the same player the Bengals had picked in the 11th round as Wally Scott.

WELL, THAT'S THE WAY THE PUCK BOUNCES

Horsemen Threaten Boycott

ARCADIA (AP) — Race horse owners and Santa Anita remain deadlocked in purse negotiations with a boycott scheduled that would halt racing tomorrow.

After negotiations that lasted past midnight, Doug Atkins, secretary of the California division of the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association said:

"The stalemate continues. There has been no settlement. After all these hours we are as far apart as when we went in."

Santa Anita pays 41 per cent of its pari-mutuel waggering share in purses, and the horsemen ask 47.

One per cent is estimated to be worth about $15,000 for a meeting here.

"The track is holding to 41," Atkins added.

Saturday's $100,000 - added Strube Stakes featuring 1967 Horse of the Year Damascus was in doubt.

Although entries for the big race were to be taken today, it had been announced earlier they would be taken tomorrow instead.

Atkins and Fred Ryan, vice president and general manager of Santa Anita, agreed there were no immediate plans to resume negotiations. Ryan added, "both sides are hopeful they can be resumed."

EMERGENCY MEETING

Members of the HBPA at an emergency meeting last night indicated by standing vote that a large majority would keep their horses in the barn if agreement were not reached.

Members must act individually in refusing to enter horses. Of the 400 to 500 present, about 75 per cent stood when asked if they would boycott.

There was a boycott in New York last year and recently in Florida.

For the past 16 years, horsemen in California have received 40 per cent of the tracks' pari-mutuel shares. Last Thursday, Santa Anita boosted it to 41.

Originally the HBPA members asked 41 this season, 42 next and 43 in 1969-70. On Friday the request was boosted to 47 per cent, which the horsemen argue is the average for major tracks throughout the nation.

49ers Land Vet And 19 Rookies

When defensive tackle Roland Lakes played out his option in 1967, the San Francisco 49ers made sure they got a big tackle in the professional football draft this week.

Their second choice Tuesday was 260-pound Lance Olssen, a 6-foot-5 behemoth from Purdue, as a possible replacement for Lakes.

Well, yesterday Lakes had a sudden change of heart and marched into the 49er offices to sign his 1968 contract.

In Tuesday's first five rounds the 49ers chose Forrest Blue, center, Auburn; Olssen, defensive tackle, Purdue; Skip Vanderbundt, linebacker, Oregon State; John Fuller, offensive end, Lamar Tech; and Dwight Lee, running back, Michigan State.

MARIN STAR DRAFTED BY ATLANTA FALCONS

Jim Schmidt of San Rafael, a defensive back for San Francisco State College, was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons League yesterday in the combined professional football draft.

The former San Rafael High School star was the 16th and last player picked by the Falcons of the National Football League.

Schmidt enjoyed a brilliant senior season at San Francisco last year as a safetyman. He scored five interceptions, led the Gators in unassisted tackles, placed first team All-Far Western Conference, was a second team selection on the Little All-America squad, and was selected to play in the Potato Bowl at Bakersfield as well as playing with the Gators in the Camellia Bowl at Sacramento.

Oakland Gloves Hassle

OAKLAND (AP) — Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring Magazine, says heavyweights Thad Spencer and Jerry Quarry should wear 8—not 10-ounce—gloves Saturday afternoon in their semi-final fight in the series to pick a world champion.

The young fighters are scheduled for 12 rounds in the 14,200-seat Arena in the World Boxing Association's elimination series to pick a successor to Cassius Clay.

The Quarry-Spencer winner will meet Jimmy Ellis, who survived the other semifinal, for the WBA title. That fight will be held in a city yet to be selected—probably Los Angeles or Oakland—in March or April.

Fleischer, long a world renowned authority on boxing, said of Saturday's fight: "The California Athletic Commission is wrong in requiring 10-ounce gloves for heavyweights.

GAIN WEIGHT

"Because of the sweat and water the gloves soak up, they might weigh 12 ounces by the fourth or fifth round. Certainly, they would weigh 12 onces late in a 12-round fight.

Twelve-ounce gloves could cause fatigue and cause the fighters to lose speed.

To that, Spencer replied:

"I box with 16-ounce gloves every day" in the gymnasium. "It doesn't sound to me as if 10-ounce gloves would be too heavy."

"I'm all for it—100 per cent," said Quarry of Fleischer's suggestion. "It means less weight on the hands."

Fleischer said, "Eight-once gloves would be much better for both fighters. Some states," Fleischer, a former ring official, continued, "permit six ounce gloves for championship fights."

REDUCE INJURIES

Most states require the heavily padded gloves for heavies, light heavies and middleweights because of their greater punching power. That, he said, is to reduce the possibility of injury.

Who does Fleischer pick? "Spencer, on experience. He should be 7-5. Quarry is good but inexperienced."

Spencer, 24, has been fighting eight years, and has won 32 fights, 13 by knockouts, and lost 5. He beat Ernie Terrell in the first round of the tournament.

DRAFTED — Former Michigan State defensive halfback Jesse Phillips, serving a 15 months to 14 years term in Southern Michigan Prison on a check forgery conviction, was drafted by the Cincinnati Bengals of the American Football League at this week's collegiate player draft. Gen. Mgr. Paul Brown said he knew of the prison sentence but said there was no question about Phillips' football ability. (Ap Wirephoto)

JUST LIKE US

DeGaulle A 'Sport'

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Gen. Charles DeGaulle may appear aloof and stern to most Americans but he has one thing in common with most Yanks, a French official disclosed today.

"You can hardly tear him away from the television set when a good game or sports event is on," said Michel Pericard, technical advisor for the winter Olympic Games, opening here next Tuesday.

"He's by far the most sports-minded of all French presidents. He loves a good sporting event. He is the only president to award the Legion of Merit to an athlete—figure skater Almain Calmat, among others.

CHARLES DE GAULLE

So it is pleasure as well as state duty which is bringing the general to Grenoble next week for the official opening of the Games and later—Feb. 14—for the men's giant slalom ski race.

This bustling Alpine community is popping with excitement over the visit—only the third for DeGaulle since he became president 10 years ago.

DeGaulle will make a six-hour trip by special train from Paris Feb. 5, going directly to the Verdun Place, residence of the provincial prefect, a post similar to that of governor.

At first he planned to fly and then suddenly changed his mind. He is scheduled to arrive in the stadium at 3:03 p.m., local time — not 3 p.m. or 3:15 p.m., but 3:03.

"He will be prompt," Pericard said.

On the second visit near the end of the games, DeGaulle will stay at the Chateau de Vizelle, a stone edifice of the 17th century which once belonged to the Duke of Lesdiguieres and traditionally — before DeGaulle — was a summer holiday place for French presidents.

WINTER OLYMPICS

Yanks Boast Most Exciting Ski Team

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Four years ago at Innsbruck, Billy Kidd and Jimmy Huega captured the first Olympic medals ever earned by American male racers in Alpine skiing.

Today, they start training at nearby Chamrousse in an attempt to gain yet another distinction.

Their aim is to join Austria's Peipi Stiegler, who is the only man ever to gain Alpine skiing medals in more than one Olympic Winter Games. He finished second in the 1960 giant slalom at Squaw Valley, then won the 1964 slalom — ahead of Kidd and Huega — after also taking a third in that year's giant slalom.

STIEGLER GONE

Kidd clearly has the edge this time over his U.S. Rival.

"Billy is a better bet for a medal then he was in 1964," Coach Bob Beattie said today of the 24-year-old veteran from Stowe, Vt. "He's skiing very well, and because of him and the recent suprising performances by some of our young girls, we're the most exciting team in Europe right now."

Huega, also 24, is a notoriously poor January skier. However, the Olympics are held in February, and almost on signal, the Squaw Valley native came through with a creditable third in the slalom at Negeve last weekend.

FUNNY ATHLETE

"Jimmy is a funny athlete," Beattie said. "But he's listening now, and his back is to the wall. You know, he hadn't finished in the first five in a major European race since 1964."

At the start of this season, Huega was figured as America's No. 1 man off his series of close second behind Killy in the United States Last March. Kidd, meanwhile, was a doubtful quantity after sitting out a season and a half with leg injuries.

Now, the tables have been turned, but then so has the page on the calendar.

Lanier, Dietz Sign Contracts With Giants

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Infielder Hal Lanier and second-string catcher Dick Dietz have signed San Francisco Giant baseball contracts for the 1968 season, vice president Charles "Chub" Feeney announced today.

No money terms were made public.

Lanier was switched last June from second base to shortstop. He handled 654 chances and figured in 73 double plays, erring only 17 times in 134 games.

Lanier hit for only .213, below previous seasons, but batted in 42 runs.

Dietz, appearing in 56 games behind Tom Haller, displayed some power at the plate. He hit four home runs, one in a pinch-hit appearance. A product of the Giant farm system, Dietz will be playing his third season as a Giant.

GOLF

Old Guard Has Hope In Desert

PALM SPRINGS (AP) — The Old Guard, so to speak, was in at least temporary control today as Bob Rosburg, 41, and long Bill Collins, 39, led the way into the second round of the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

Rosburg, now listed from St. Louis, whose last tournament triumph was in the 1961 Bing Crosby National, and Collins, whose last big one was the 1962 Buick Open, went into play five strokes under par and one ahead of their nearest rival, Lee Trevino.

Collins won top money of $2,970 in the pro-amateur phase of the Hope last year. But both he and Rosburg finished out of the money in individual scoring, each with 366.

Trailing the leaders were Billy Casper, who had a first-round 70 and Arnold Palmer, with 72.

TOUGHER GOING

The top three players found the Indian Wells course to their liking, but from now on out the going may be rougher. Most of the pros rank Indian Wells as the easiest of the four in action.

Par is 36-36—72 on all the club tests—Eldorado, Bermuda

Brundage Hits At Dishonest Amateurs

GRENOBLE, France (AP) — Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee today told the world's Olympic athletes:

"Those whose aim it is to make money are not eligible and are not wanted. It's as simple as that."

The 80-year-old American, who has dedicated himself to the Olympic movement made his position known in a speech at the opening session of the 66th session of the IOC — six days before the start of the Winter Olympics in this winter sports playground.

"You have heard much of the complicated amateur problem," Brundage said in opening the session.

"Despite all the talk it is not complicated at all. The games are non-commercial — they are not a business and those whose aim it is to make money are not eligible and are not wanted. It is as simple as that."

Brundage went on:

"Those who assert there are no longer any amateurs and who with a wave of the hand wish to dismiss the distinction between amateurs display only their ignorance.

"It is true that amateurism is a matter of conscience and difficult to define, but it is precious things like friendship, love and charity and the world would be a dismal place without it."

Brundage added:

"When a skier insists on being photographed showing the brand of his skis we can be sure there is a reason, even if we cannot prove it.

"Those who are secretly on the payrolls of manufacturers, those who surreptitiously accept valuable presents which are the same as cash, those who are paid by commercial institutions or winter resorts and used for advertising purposes with no work to do are not eligible for the Olympic Games.

"If they sign the Olympic entry forms they are lieing and if they are dishonest in sport they are likely to be dishonest elsewhere. It is neither smart nor clever to cheat and they are not fooling anyone merely because their dishonesty cannot be proven.

"If an individual wants to make money by reason of his athletic ability it is for him to decide, but he should admit his professional status publicly and with pride and not pretend to be an amateur.

Laughs Galore In Grid Draft

were one and the same so the Eagles substituted Joe Forzani, a Utah State linebacker, for the final choice.

Earlier, Buffalo had created a fuss when it announced the selection of Memphis State tackle Chuck De Vleigher in the 13th round, then hurriedly withdrew the pick and substituted Dan Darragh, a William and Mary quarterback.

The Bills had learned, almost as soon as they originally announced De Vliegher's choice, that he had a bad knee and was a medical question mark.

When they came right back with him in the next round, one wag remarked, "He must have had an operation between phone calls."

Most of the big names were gone when the teams swung into the final 12 rounds of drafting yesterday.

Heisman Trophy winner Gary Beban of UCLA had been plucked in the second round by Los Angeles after linemen headed by Southern California's Ron Yary and Tennessee's Bob Johnson had dominated the early selections. Minnesota made Yary the No. 1 choice and Cincinnati chose Johnson right after Vikings opened the draft Monday.

Miami grabbed Kim Hammond, Florida State's quarterback, and sprinter Jimmy Hines, listed as a flanker from Texas Southern. Cincinnati took Dewey Warren, Tennessee's quarterback, Cleveland grabbed Notre Dame defensive back Tom Schoen and Detroit picked up Oklahoma linebacker Granville Liggins.

Yesterday's 12 rounds lasted exactly 11 hours, making the two-day total 22 hours, 43 minutes compared to 21:39 last year. A total of 462 players were selected by the 26 pro teams.

Dunes, La Quinta and Indian Wells. Indian Wells is the shortest, 6,711 yards, and Bermuda Dunes the longest at 6,910.

Tom Nieporte, last year's winner, shot a first-round 76 at La Quinta. A year ago Nieporte started out with an identical 76 and followed with 68-68-68-69 for 349.

Thirty-nine of the 136 pros broke par in the first round. Palmer and Casper played La Quinta, which with Eldorado is regarded as the more demanding.

ALL TOUGH

Which did he think was the toughtest?

"They're all tough the way I'm striking the ball," replied Palmer.

Casper, who won the Los Angeles Open last Sunday, observed jovially, "I guess I'm a Thursday starter." Ordinarily tournaments begin on a Thursday.

The first round found other old timers breaking par. Former U.S. Open champion Ed Furgol had a 69, as did Paul Harney, Julius Boros, playing in his first tournament of the year, had a 71, as did Manuel de la Torre and Doug Ford.

BOWLING TIPS

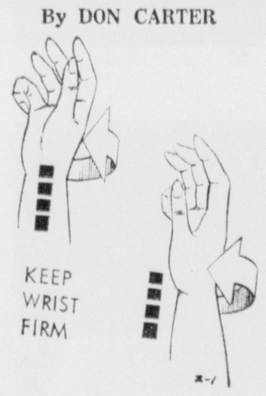
By DON CARTER



The wrist should be firm, during the backswing and at the moment of delivery. A limp wrist on the backswing will spoil any plans you have for having the hand in a certain position when you release the ball. Keeping the wrist firm will help you give a good follow-through without putting a lot of "finger motion" into your delivery.

Said Hayes: "I wouldn't want to lose any time getting ready for pro basketball." Said Hines, who was drafted by the Miami Dolphins of the American Football League: "I'm too flat broke to pass this up and may sign for enough money to stay in school" at Texas Southern in Houston.

MARIN COUNTY PREP NOTES:

Tam Fights Off Nagging '67 Memories

By GARY TISCHLER

It's halfway over. So what do you think of the Marin County Athletic League basketball race now?

It would be easy enough to say that Tamalpais High is in like Flynn, except for some hesitant, nagging memories of 1967.

The same could be said for Redwood, which also made a big run for it last year, only to fold in key games.

San Rafael and Terra Linda won't grab the ring either, and Novato has very little chance.

So the little whirlpool centers around Tam, Redwood and Marin Catholic.

The Tam Indians are unbeaten at 6-0, Redwood is 5-1 and Marin Catholic is 4-2.

Coach Bernie Schneider's Indians will have the tougher road. They will meet both the Giants and the Wildcats in away games. At Tamalpais, the Indians disposed of both teams easily. In fact, the closest fights the Indians have had have been from Drake and San Rafael.

Marin Catholic, since dropping two straight to Tam and Redwood, has won three in a row, using a platoon system of starting the second team and switching to the first team.

Redwood has won handily since losng to Tam, looking impressive in victories over Drake, Marin Catholic and Terra Linda.

San Rafael just might be the team that will throw a monkey wrench into somebody's title hopes. Marin Catholic has the Bulldogs at San Rafael tomorrow in what should be a key game.

Some top stars and players have emerged so far after six games of league warfare.

Tamalpais — Pat Schafer, Floyd Jackson, Leroy Barrow.

Redwood — Tom Seidenberg, Darel Ravani.

Novato — Steve McNally, Ed Herrnberger.

Drake — Art Pla, Don Alvarado.

Terra Linda — Pat Purcell.

Take your pick.

GIRLS: PART TWO — Forty-four girls from six Marin County Athletic League schools will make the trip to Santa Rosa March 9 for the Optinial High School Girls Gymnastics Meet.

Novato will send nine girls to the optional meet, Drake, Terra Linda and Redwood nine each, Drake seven and San Rafael and Tamalpais four each.

Low Intermediates: Free Exercise, Deirdre Bullis (D), third; All-Around, Dee Politi (D), first.

Computer Helps 49ers In Draft Selection

Use of computers in pro football draft selections is old stuff to the 49ers, Rams and Cowboys. The three National Football League teams pooled scouting efforts several years ago and began feeding the data into an IBM computer.

"The computer approach to the problem made sense," said Lou Spadia, president of the 49ers. "It was almost impossible to get an objective rating otherwise.

"Computer conclusions are far more accurate than those of a human brain provided the data fed into the computer is accurate."

Salam Qureishi, a genius out of the University of Bombay with post graduate degrees in computer programming from University of London and Case Institute in Cleveland, is in charge of the 49ers' computer division.

INDEED, QUREISHI is much more than that. He is president of Optimum Systems, Inc., of Palo Alto, a company set up by the 49ers, Rams and Cowboys to offer computer services outside the football field.

"It worked so well for us," said Spadia, "we were led to the conclusion that it could be used in the selection of other personnel. The company already has received several contracts outside the football field. Qureishi now is working with certain school districts on selection of teachers.

"THE COMPUTER, given proper data, will tell you what goes into the makeup of a great sports writer, insurance salesman, attorney, peace officer or anyone else.

"Qureishi and his computer experts have a model called GIGO. It means Garbage In, Garbage Out."

When Qureishi was hired by the football teams to head their computer subsidiary he asked a pretty good question. "What is a football player?" he wanted to know.

WELL, NOBODY could come up with a definition that would cover all characteristics of the game's personnel. The first three, height, weight and speed, were simple to measure. The other five factors were not so easy to measure.

Strength, quickness and control, mental alertness, competitiveness and one factor called character are difficult to measure precisely. This is where Qureishi's computer comes in.

"THE COMPUTER'S No. 1 pick and our scouts' manual one coincided for the last two years —Stan Hindmen a couple of seasons ago and Steve Spurrier a year ago," said Spadia. "But we're still going with our manual picks."

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Steelheaders Sit And Wait; Salmon Trollers Get Ready

STEVENS

The vicious cycle has begun again. Steelhead streams throughout nothern and central California are high, muddy and practically unfishable. Once again we must curb our desire to match wits with the hardest fighting fish extant. We just must wait until we have a spell of clear and dry days with sunshine and the streams slowly lower and clear before we even consider a trip to our stream.

Bear in mind that should the rains cease for a period of two or three days, the stream of our choice may get rid of the mud that colors the water, and lower to the normal height, but that won't be a long enough time. It will take six, maybe seven days before a stream becomes prime again — when the water becomes a milky color.

YOU ARE reminded that the season on ocean salmon fishing is not far off — Saturday Feb. 17 — is the opener. These gray days, when you are home-bound, is a good time to go over your equipment.

Inspect the wrappings on your rod, replace if frayed or weakened; run the point of your penknife round the inside of the guides and tip top to detect any small nick which can't be seen by the naked eye but which might cut or fray your line.

Also, give your salmon trolling line the "ping" or "pung" test — if it pings almost like a banjo string, it's okay; if it pungs it is dead or dying. Cut off all line that pungs and discard it, and keep on testing until it pings as you snap it between your hands. Hone the hooks on your sardine harness until they are needle sharp. If you will be using lures instead of anchovies or herring, hone the hooks and polish the metal.

Make certain you have a spare sinker-release or two, and a supply of 3 pound weights. And, above all, reserve a seat on a fishing boat, and if you are still without a 1968 angling license get one today.

Wall Street Has Rebound

NEW YORK (AP) — Glamor stocks made a rebound today as the stock market closed in the midst of a recovery drive. Trading was active.

Losses still outnumbered gains in the final minutes but the Dow Jones industrial average showed a g.in.

The market was slightly lower at the start, attempted to rally, then faltered. A renewed attempt at advance got more of a following and the list was on the upgrade at the end.

Gains were also made by such blue chips as Chrysler, Goodrich, United Aircraft, American Can, Lorillard and U.S. Gypsum.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Some Taxpayers Can Find A Way To Deduct Their Meals, Lodging

Wikel

How would you like to deduct all the costs of your meals and lodging?

If you are a rancher and have to live on the ranch in order to operate it, maybe you can.

Here is how one taxpayer managed to deduct all of the costs of his meals and lodging.

The taxpayers, man and wife, owned and operated two ranches and had been living on them. These ranches were operated as an individual proprietorship. The taxpayers paid and deducted the cost of meals and lodging that they furnished to their various employees; but of course, they could not deduct their own living costs since they owned the business.

The taxpayers incorporated the ranches and immediately elected to be taxed under subchapter S. This means there was no corporate tax to pay since the profit or loss flows through the corporation to the taxpayers.

The new tax effect to them was the same as though they were still operating as individual proprietors; except, and this is the big exception, under section 119 of the Internal Revenue Code, the cost of their own meals and lodging is deductible by the corporation. They had become employees of the corporation, and had to accept meals and lodging on the ranch in order to be there to perform their duties. The meals and lodging were furnished for the convenience of the employer, deductible by the corporation and not taxable to the employees.

It is also possible for partnership to elect to be taxed as a corporation and to furnish meals and lodging to a partner-employee who is required by the duties of the business to live on the premises and deduct the cost of such meals and lodging as a business expense.

This then is deductible by the partnership and is not includible in the income of the partner-employee. This is contained in Revenue ruling 63-32 as follows:

Accordingly, it is held that a partnership, which has elected under section 1361 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 to be taxed as a domestic corporation, may deduct the costs of meals and lodging furnished to a partner-employee on its business premises, and the partner-employee may exclude the value of such meals and lodging from his gross income, provided the electing partnership and the partner-employee meet all the tests set forth in sections 162 and 119 of the Code.

This would seem to be of particular interest not only to ranchers, who must live on the ranch, but also to hotel, motel, restaurant and apartment owners, as well as anyone who must live and/or eat on their business premises.

Of course before making a decision to use either of these methods you should consult your tax adviser as there are many points that must be very carefully considered before trying to get this tax-free board and room.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Private Investor Unlike The Professional Trader

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. I bought General Foods at 86 a share and it is now down to 71. Also, Consolidated Edison at 43, now down to 33. If I sold, I would lose a large amount which I can't afford. You sometimes quote the trading adage, "Take your losses, but let your profits run." Does this apply to me? — M.P.

A. You should remember that you are by no means a trader but, rather, a conservative investor. You hold two good stocks which I believe will ultimately come back to your purchase price.

General Foods has slowed down in growth, but it still leads its field and it periodically raises its dividend. Consolidated Edison serves New York City and Westchester and has had problems, particularly relating to pollution and the bad image it has created. The dividend appears thoroughly secure and has been lifted frequently. For a person in your circumstances, I consider both stocks satisfactory and I advise you to hold them.

Q. My brother is interested in T. Rowe Price Growth Stock Fund, which charges no commission. I believe they cannot operate without a management fee and would like to confirm this to my brother. Would you kindly explain, giving this charge? — J. B.

A. T. Rowe Price Associates manages the Price Fund for an annual fee of .5 per cent on the first $50 million, .4 per cent on the next $100 million and .35 per cent on the balance and these charges are passed on to the holders. Price has an excellent record, but I will repeat again what I have said here before: it is the performance of a fund that counts, rather than the sales load. I suggest you check with a reputable dealer and determine which fund best meets your brother's objective.

Mob Violence Adds To Ugly Strike Spread

Mob destruction of printing equipment in the Walnut Creek plant of the Contra Costa Times and Concord Transcript brings into sharp and ugly focus a situation in California newspaper publishing that is no less harmful to the public than to the publishers.

This is a tendency for labor disputes to be extended beyond those actually involved, and even into other cities.

The plant in Walnut Creek has been picketed for months in a dispute with the International Typographical Union. But the violence that broke out Tuesday was linked, not to its own labor troubles but to those of the far-away Los Angeles Herald-Examiner.

A throng of about 250 gathered outside the plant. Then, according to publisher Dean Lesher, 35 to 40 of them invaded the building. They dumped type, smashed typesetting machines and engraving equipment.

WHY THE ATTACK? Said Lesher, "I understand the theory is that we have been helping the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, which is untrue."

The Los Angeles strike was started last October by the American Newspaper Guild. Mechanical unions subsequently joined the walkout. Nevertheless the paper has continued to publish.

Walnut Creek is the scene of the second spillover of this dispute into the Bay Area. The first came on Jan. 4 when the San Francisco Newspaper Guild put "sympathy" pickets outside the printing plant of San Francisco's two daily newspapers. This was promptly followed by a Mailers Union strike that closed both papers. They are still closed.

San Francisco is not alone in being deprived of daily newspapers by labor trouble. A much bigger city, Detroit, has been without its daily papers — except for a "vulture press" sheet financed by officials of the Teamsters Union itself — since a Teamsters strike against the Detroit News started last Nov. 15. The city's second daily, the Detroit Free Press, voluntarily shut down in a solidarity move.

Despite the plant damage, the Concord Transcript and Contra Costa Times were able to publish. But San Francisco and Detroit have had to learn to live without their familiar daily papers.

EVERY DAY that a newspaper fails to appear, the likelihood of its ever appearing again is diminished. In New York City, three newspapers shrank to none in the wake of a prolonged strike. After the shutdown, the weakened Herald - Tribune, Journal - American, and World-Telegram and Sun (each already the result of mergers, as the hyphenated names indicate) decided to merge into a single daily. And that one, the World Journal Tribune, lived only briefly. Thousands of jobs thus vanished.

Every day that no newspaper appears, business in the city suffers.

Every day that no newspaper appears, the people lack information on which they have come to depend. No other medium can fill the lack.

Wild rumors grow in the absence of a dependable source of news. Crime increases. The city's life deteriorates.

WHATEVER THE MERITS of the various unions' disputes against publishers in San Francisco or Detroit, they can scarcely balance against the damage to the business community, to the public, to the very life of the city that results from the shutdown of newspapers.

And even if it were true — which is certainly highly unlikely — that the Walnut Creek publisher sent strike breakers to Los Angeles, that cannot justify mob violence. Such violence can only damage the hard-won recognition of organized labor's role in our society.

Distinct Personalities

Birds, like people, are individuals. For example, California jays are blue, intelligent, aggressive birds, as a rule. But some are more intelligent and aggressive than others. They develop different habits and have distinct personalities.

Some birds will pick up a piece of bread and fly away to eat it. One crippled Jay we read about recently invariably picked the three largest pieces of bread from the feeder, carefully stacked them, flew away with them to hide them behind a nearby plant or shrub, returned for three more. Then when all other birds had quit the garden, he carried away his cache, three pieces at a time.

It often takes intensive study to get so well acquainted that one can recognize individuals. But such intimacy doubles the pleasure of bird watching.

"MOTHER" TO FOUR DOZEN FOSTER CHILDREN

Twelve years in a foster home led a woman from Rockford, Ill., to make an unusual promise. She vowed that, when she could, she would try to help other homeless children in any way possible.

With her husband, a truckdriver, the 35-year-old mother of four has taken in and cared for no less than 48 children.

"I was an orphan myself," she explained. "I always felt that if I could help little ones along the way, I would try. Besides, we just plain love babies here."

It is heartening to see what surprising results can be achieved by individuals who are determined to aid persons unable to assist themselves.

We should ask ourselves from time to time how strongly we are animated by a love of others for love of God.

Then we will be more lively to discover practical ways and means of being of service to those who need and deserve our attention.

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO
Feb. 1, 1958

20 YEARS AGO
Feb. 1, 1948

Marin peace officers said there was no increases in juvenile delinquency in rural areas, in reply to charges that there "juvenile marauders" in Forest Knolls.

A 23-day rainless spell in Marin resulted in the driest January in 20 years, with San Rafael recording only 1.25 inches of rain for the month.

War As A Means To Win Re-election?

Editor, Independent-Journal:

We will never know for sure just where the Pueblo was, but we do know that it had been in the area for some time, on a spy mission. Similarly, there are Russian ships just off our coast, also. These are simply the signs of the times, and a reflection of the mutual distrust. These times demand calm evaluation of events.

We have, however, a domestic distrust that results from the downright betrayal of the electoral mandate, which voted heavily for the candidate who pretended to oppose the war hawk, Goldwater. His frequent lies have caused his administration to coin the term "credibility gap" in an attempt to explain the many falsehoods.

In view of his popularity decline, and the November elections, and considering his unfortunate record, it seems likely that he would risk plunging us into yet another war, so that he might use the resulting hysteria to remain in office.

State Cooperation With Novato Cited

Editor, Independent-Journal:

In the Jan. 16 issue of the Independent-Journal was an article entitled "Novato Gets Back of Hand from State on Highways Matters," and the opening paragraphs dealt with problems encountered by the city with landscaping in the median islands of Highway 101 through the central business district of Novato.

Landscaping in these islands was furnished and installed at state expense in August 1965. Such plantings are not usually furnished on conventional highways, and especially those which are expected to be bypassed by a freeway. As you know, when the freeway is constructed through the Novato area, existing Highway 101 will be relinquished to the local jurisdictions.

At the city's request, a cooperative agreement was executed between the city and the state whereby the state furnished and installed the plantings (at a cost of $2,100) and the city installed the irrigation system and agreed to furnish water and maintain the plantings. Since that time, the state has cooperated with the city in spraying the plantings since the city is not equipped to execute this operation. All of this was part of the agreement between city and state.

We would like to correct the impression left by your article that the state has not cooperated with the city, since the opposite has actually been the case.

Felons 'Never Had It So Good'

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Regarding the felons' strike on Death Row, I must say that the menu is better than the average working man's, and we have to work for ours.

Considering that they have all been found guilty of various crimes, they should be grateful that they are still alive. I have carried a cold lunch for about 40 years, and I am sure that our boys overseas don't always have hot food. These guys never had it so good.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reagan Tells Philosophy In Talk To Auto Men

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some of the goals of the present state administration were outlined by Gov. Ronald Reagan in an address this week to the National Automobile Dealers Association in Las Vegas, Nev.

The governor dwelt on the "creative society," the slogan on which he carried his election campaign. He reported briefly on the pattern of activity whereby the administration hopes to achieve its goals.

"IN THE PAST several months," the governor said, "we don't have a number of things consistent with our belief that in a creative society there are many functions now performed by government that perhaps can be better performed by using the full genius and the power and the ability of the people.

"Often those who classify themselves more liberal minded than I am—and that leaves a lot of room — have accused this administration of being business oriented.

"They are correct on the basis of two facts that some of them never learned. One is that businesses do not pay taxes, people do. The other is that government does not create jobs, business and industry do.

"For these reasons, we are doing everything possible to create conditions to insure that business and industry can expand and meet their job needs for a growing population in California. At the same time, we are trying to give Californians, the taxpayers, the people, as frugal and as efficient a government as possible. Neither of the jobs can be done overnight.

"We inherited government machinery a year ago that was spending more than a million dollars a day over and above the state's revenue. In fact, my predecessor was spending so much money that I thought he was practicing to be president."

Regan declared there always has been controversy as to whether government can be run like business, but said he believes that government can afford only what it can pay for and what the people are willing to pay for.

"IN THESE LAST few months," he stated, "I have discovered how savage can be the angry resistance of some in government when you try to make any change or reduce the size and power of government. But I have also discovered that the size and power of government can be reduced.

"This system of ours was never intended to be monopolized by a hierarchy of career statsmen or government professionals permanently structured by civil service.

"This way of ours was intended to be constantly scrutinized by the people. This is the secret that we have overlooked too long."

TRY AND STOP ME

A cocky Texan was a member of a small Marine detachment that was ambushed by a Viet Cong force 10 times as large. A bullet caught him in the thigh, but when the enemy withdrew, he charged after them, hurling invectives, and bleeding profusely. "Come back," shouted his captain. "You're wounded, you idiot." "I know," yelled back the Texan, "but I think I know who did it!"

One of Paper Tycoon Sam Himmell's friends has a husky wife who complained of increasing deafness. "It can't be helped," a doctor told the husband after thorough investigation. "Tell your wife her condition is simply an indication of advancing years." "Not on your life," cried the husband. "You tell her."

Hanoi Places High Ransom On Airmen

By PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The more than 400 captured American fliers being held by North Vietnam have become the center of the biggest ransom demand in history.

Hanoi's price for the release of these American prisoners could run upward to a half billion dollars.

Hanoi has offered to open talks on an exchange-of-prisoners if the U.S. will suspend its air attacks during the negotiations. U.S. exploration of this Communist feeler, which carried no assurance that any of the U.S. prisoners would be released, turned up the ransom joker.

According to U.S. intelligence, the North Vietnamese representative in Romania responsible for the feeler now says negotiations must include the amount of money the U.S. is to pay for American bomb damage.

When questioned about what this figure might be, the North Vietnamese diplomat estimated the present cost at "more than $500 million" — or more than $1 million a prisoner.

SO FAR, U.S. officials have neither accepted nor rejected Hanoi's feeler, in an effort to keep this channel open for further discussions. Unlike Hanoi's other highly publicized peace feelers, the prisoner-exchange proposals are being kept quiet by agreement until the U.S. decides whether to accept or reject them.

Efforts of U.S. diplomats to use these talks to obtain a list of captured Americanfliers list of captured American fliers from North Vietnamese have not succeeded. The reply from Hanoi is that such a list must await a halt in the bombing.

Neither North Vietnam nor the Viet Cong National Front has answered requests of the International Committee of the Red Cross to inspect prisoner of war camps and interview prisoners, as provided for in the 1949 Geneva Conventions.

THE UNCERTAIN fate of these captured U.S. fliers is one of the most urgent problems being inherited by Clark Clifford as defense secretary succeeding Robert McNamara.

Failure of the Johnson administration to obtain a pledge from Hanoi to adhere to the Geneva conventions is causing growing restlessness among U.S. pilots in South Vietnam and Thailand.

Several members of the Senate and House armed services committees, after visiting Vietnam, warned their respective committees that this unrest could develop into a serious morale problem.

Complaints of fliers were included in a confidential report that Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., a close friend of Clifford, submitted to the Defense Department covering his recent Vietnam inspection trip.

ACCORDING TO another lawmaker's report to the Senate armed services committee, the increase in Air Force and Navy pilot resignations is due in part to the failure of the government to be effective in helping the captured pilots.

This report states that resignations of Air Force pilots have quadrupled since 1965 and those of Navy pilots are twice as high as two years ago.

These and other reports on the prisoners of war problem are being studied by a high-level Defense Department committee recently set up by outgoing Defense Secretary McNamara. Once Clifford takes over, several of the committee members plan to seek additional authority so the group can recommend specific programs and policies to help the captured airmen.

When the president presses for the proposed 10 per cent income surtax, he stresses that it is only a temporary, emergency measure. We don't want to question Mr. Johnson's sincerity, but it so happens that at the same time congress is being asked to extend at existing rates, the excise tax on automobile sales and telephone service.

A quarter-century or so ago, you may recall, those two taxes were also supposed to be temporary expedients to meet an emergency.

Beefing Up Of American Force In Korea Looms

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As result of the Pueblo crisis it's expected that a lot of beef now will be added to the Korean theater, which had been stripped nearly to bare bones in behalf of the war in Vietnam.

The expected buildup includes both American strength and support given to South Korean forces. There are reports that some American units had been reduced to one-third of programmed strength. There were precious few aircraft at Osan Base when the Pueblo was captured — some unconfirmed reports say only eight jets. The stripping is justified by the United States because of great maneuverability — it can move a division in 48 hours.

DIPLOMATS in London believe neither the Soviet Union nor Red China has sufficient influence in North Vietnam or North Korea to exert political pressure on their respective governments in the current crisis developments. This lack of influence is becoming an increasingly important factor in big power policy considerations.

The Soviets have proved unable to sway Hanoi's decision in the current phase of the Vietnam conflict. Nor are they capable apparently of pressuring North Korea to give way in the Pueblo incident. Peking, it appear, has even less influence.

ALTHOUGH American officials in Saigon won't talk about it, there had been a step-up of U.S. ground operations in Laos along with an increase of the bombing along the Ho Chi Minh Trail.

American-led clandestine patrols keep a constant watch on the infiltration through the network of jungle trails and recently have increased their ambushes and hit-run attacks.

City Council In Hot Water Whether Library Is Or Not

The City of San Anselmo was involved in two kinds of hot water last week.

One was the second phase of a project to install hot water facilities in the library. City councilmen earlier had split 2-2 on whether the lowest of three informal cost estimates, $214, should be accepted from a Corte Madera firm, or whether the job should be awarded to a San Anselmo firm for $1 higher.

The council then decided to await the next meeting, when the presence of the fifth council member could break the tie. However, Councilman Duane C. Ragan last week moved that the city administrator he authorized to spend "no more than" $214 for a hot water system in the library, preferably using a San Anselmo supplier.

COUNCILMAN Robert M. Scott, who originally had objected to the discrimination both on grounds of principle and because other city councils might retaliate by declining low bids from San Anselmo firms, then suggested hot water might be tapped to the library from some source within the city hall.

The council unanimously decided the possibility should be explored. It then decided to also vote on whether the city administrator should be instructed to proceed with the $214 maximum if the tapping idea failed.

Mayor Arthur W. Smith, who earlier had insisted that when only $1 or so is involved in such an informal matter, a San Anselmo firm should have the job, stuck to his guns.

His "no" vote was swamped 4-1, and it appears library patrons and staff will have hand-washing facilities whether the heat is provided by tapping, by a San Anselmo supplier, or by a foreigner.

A FEW CITIZENS also said city officials should be in hot water over the inability of the newly opened six blocks of southbound Sir Francis Drake Boulevard to move traffic adequately.

Herman G. Hein of 6 Jersey Lane appeared at the council meeting as a "car pool representative." Before installation of the new section and its traffic lights, he said, vehicles moved smoothly. But with opening of the two additional lanes, the cars were piling up at almost every intersection awaiting slow light changes.

Frances Harrington fired heavier artillery by writing that planners of the addition created a "fiasco." She also lambasted the police department for being tolerant with motorists using the wrong lanes and finding themselves facing oncoming traffic.

City officials asked patience. Charles R. Leitzell, city engineer and public works director, said the new traffic lights had only been operating a very few days and synchronization of lights to eliminate pile-ups will be done quickly.

By late last week, Leitzell reported the synchronization had been done and southbound traffic in heavy commuter morning hours could move at 30 miles an hour if the green light was properly caught at Bank Street.

Similar heavy returning traffic in the evening can move north at 30 miles an hour, he said. Midday traffic lights are set for 20-mile-an-hour speeds in both directions.

Pueblo Incident Finds Johnson Again Lacking Leadership Force

Last week began with Hanoi escalating its attacks, obviously hell-bent on some spectacular victory for bargaining purposes at the conference table. And Gen. Westmoreland warned that the greatest battle in this undeclared was was imminent.

Which meant that our casualty list, already high, would soar, and that thousands of families would never again see a beloved son or father.

And yet —because for the first time in my day a president had signally failed to unite us when our men were dying — the voices of dissent were not muted. A Peace and Freedom Party will be on the California 1968 ballot; and in Beverly Hills, our April city ballot will probably have an initiative demanding immediate cease-fire and negotiations with the enemy.

NEITHER GROUP—their directorates interlock —is explicit in telling how these desirable ends will be achieved. But, since the proponents are intellectuals, we must assume thay have all the answers but realize the rest of us are incapable of comprehending them.

But, with the seizure of the Pueblo, even the dissenters were — if only momentarily — hushed. The man in the street, however he felt about Vietnam, responded as previous generations had reacted to Pearl Harbor and, long before, to the sinking of the Maine.

What he wanted was a clear ultimatum of the sort Teddy Roosevelt gave when Raisuli, the Moroccan bandit, had kidnapped an American citizen and was demanding ransom money. Teddy's note to the Sultan of Morocco was terse: "Perdicaris alive or Raisuli dead." And that was that — Perdicaris was returned safely.

IT WAS LBJ's second chance, and a firm stand would have united the country behind him, whether he was loved or not. Many who enlisted after Pearl Harbor had little affection for FDR.

The president started off well when he grimly warned "we are ready for any emergency," and called up a number of our reserve units.

But that effect was dissipated when, almost simultaneously, he asked Russia to intervene for us with the North Koreans — and was curtly rejected. Then he took it to the U.N., and who was our strongest denouncer? Russia, of course.

What could possibly delight Russia more than tying us up on two fronts while she risked nary a man? The odds are, to judge by the past, that Russia knew of — and approved — the North Korean coup in advance. Much as the peace-loving Kremlin is even now rearming Nasser.

For Russia to yip about spies is the supreme satire. Her "fishing" boats have been caught inside the three-mile limit in Alaska —and they weren't fishing for fish, exactly. And at this very moment, her spy-ships are trailing the Enterprise.

THE ALWAYS judicious Senator Fulbright has suggested we investigate the Pueblo matter fully before committing ourselves. That might take a couple of years, to be sure, but we musn't act in haste against a country that violated the peace treaty only some 600 times in 1967.

A syndicated column must be written in advance, and it could be that some face-saving device has already altered North Korea's intransigence. So I pray — but if not I think it time for an ultimatum for the immediate return of the Pueblo and her crew — or else. And, if necessary, steam right into the port of Wonsan to show we mean business.

No, I don't want World War III, but neither, I'm certain, does Russia. And, at some point, Americans must surely rebel at the Communism blackmail threats that have so often immobilized us.

We've tried building bridges, but that hasn't worked. How about some brinkmanship, Mr. President?

Nixon Starts Drive In New Hampshire

MANCHESTER, N.H. (AP) — Seeking a winning image as he bids again for the presidency, Richard M. Nixon returns today to familiar Republican stomping grounds—ahead 3-1 in the poll of GOP voters but three weeks behind his chief rival's personal campaign start in New Hampshire on Jan. 12.

Nixon will be joined by his wife and their two daughters for a press reception in Concord tonight.

The highlight of his opening campaign this weekend will be a speech after a roast beef dinner with 1,300 Republicans tomorrow night in Concord.

Eight years after his narrow loss to John F. Kennedy for the presidency and six years after his failure against Edmund G. Brown in the California gubernatorial race, the former Vice President is favored to defeat Michigan Gov. George Romney in New Hampshire's March 12 primary.

Nixon is well known to New Hampshire voters. In 1956, he drew nearly 23,000 write-in votes for vice president at a time when there were reports he might be dumped as President Dwight D. Eisenhower's running mate.

In 1960, Nixon won the state primary, drawing 64,200 votes, and went on to capture the state in the November election with nearly 158,000 votes against Kennedy's 137,700.

In 1964, Nixon received 15,500 write-ins in the state presidential primary and 8,100 write-ins for vice president.

Gunmen Take Hostages On A Wild Ride

DENVER (UPI)—Police roadblocks were erected today as bolstered squads of law enforcekment officers searched for two gunmen who fled an attempted holdup and took five hostages during a 300-mile flight over some of the most treacherous mountain terrain in America.

The hostages were released, unharmed, at various stages of the arduous, 10-hour flight for freedom from Vail to Denver.

It was the second such incident in Colorado this week. On Monday, a supermarket bandit was captured after he took seven persons hostage and wounded two of them during a wild, 250-mile flight from police across eastern Colorado.

Authorities said they believed the two men involved in the escape yesterday were Charles E. Hardin, 25, and Earl Wayne Sanders, 21, both of Fort Worth, Tex. Hardin has been charged with the slaying of a Fort Worth tavern owner Dec. 21.

Denver police were alerted the gunmen had arrived here after the last two hostages were released.

Investigators said the two men began their flight after being surprised early yesterday in a holdup attempt at the Manor Vail Lodge, 65 miles west of Denver.

The gunmen, both armed with .38-caliber revolvers, forced Vail police chief Ted Holmes, Jordan, and two lodge employes to accompany them. Holmes and Jordan, manager of an inn at Vail, had answered a disturbance call at the lodge.

Weather Forecasting On A Two-Year Basis

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — A meteorologist says he has found a way to perfect the science of weather forecasting so that long range predictions of up to two years can be made accurately.

"The forecasts I've made," said Harry Geise in an interview, "have ranged from months to two years in advance. A number of long range forecasts have been demonstrated."

LONG STUDY

Geise, consulting meteorologist for Sonoma State College and commercial firms, said his earlier studies have covered 30 years and invited other scientists to discuss and investigate his procedures.

Geise told members of the American Meteorological Society at the closing session of their 48th annual meeting yesterday that a study of weather patterns over North America indicates that "significant stormness occurs on certain phases of certain six-day types."

He said that weather patterns in the Western Hemisphere change every 72 days and by counting ahead on a six - day phase cycle it is possible to make long range forecasts.

Geise said his study of 137 six-day sequences revealed phases one and two were far less likely to produce measurable precipitation than phases four and five in New York City, where the study was conducted. He cited statistics to bear out his conclusion.

PHASE RESULTS

"Measurable rainfall occurred in phase one in only 14 per cent of the cases, while the percentage for phase four was almost double at 27 per cent," he said.

Using 24 - hour data, measurable rain was reported on 19 per cent of phase one dates, and again almost double, 37 per cent on phase four, he said.

"Thus, whether months or years in advance," he said, "by selecting a phase one date during the period studied, the probability of no measurable rain was 81 per cent, while the probability of no rain during the 6 a.m. to 7 p.m. period was 86 per cent."

Geise said during the fall of 1966, several significant rains occurred in New York City with official forecasts indicating a 50 per cent probability even the day before they occurred.

Geise said he forecast the disastrous snow storm in New York City at Christmas 1966 within a day in a prediction made nearly three months before.

Dial-A-Vote Proposal For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Russell B. Long proposes a dial-a-vote system to speed decision making in the Senate.

"I'm just quietly trying to do a little behind the scenes work," the Louisiana Democrat said, "trying to get them to wake up to the fact that the telphone exists."

His objective: A system which would permit senators who are away from the floor to vote by telephone on bills and have their votes counted. He suggested the Senate secretary could handle the telephone balloting.

Long said in an interview the Senate wastes the equivalent of 200 days a year delaying votes to accommodate absent members or waiting for people to show up for roll calls.

Long, discussing his absentee vote idea on the floor, said members who arrive at the last minute to cast votes usually don't have much information on the issue involved.

"When one comes charging in with his shirt tail hanging out and completely winded, the best thing to do is to ask the secretary of his party 'If you were me, how would you vote?' "

Nude Class Gives Davis Officials Goose Pimples

DAVIS (UPI) — The University of California is taking action to discontinue an off-campus political science course in which men and women participating needed only the "bare" essentials.

Chancelor Emil M. Mrak of the Davis campus said some students studied "sensory awareness" by stripping to the buff, sitting on the floor in a circle, and linking hands.

Mrak, who emphasized that sexual activity was not involved, called an emergency session of the faculty academic senate today to deal with the problem.

The nude sessions of the course called "education and community" allegedly took place at a private home with about a dozen students participating.

The instructor of the class was Dr. Gerar Friedberg, already a controversial figure on campus. However, he had appointed an "intermediary" to head the group and was not present at the session.

A Relaxing Class

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI) — Students who fall asleep in a new no-credit class at the University of Oregon may be the ones who get the best grades. The class is called "techniques of relaxation," and teaches students to relax their major muscles through orderly, systematic procedures.

A spokesman at Baptist Hospital said Mrs. Presley and the brown-haired baby were "doing just fine." Presley, secluded in a room somewhere in the hospital, was said to be "elated."

Mrs. Presley experienced no difficulty during the delivery, hospital officials said.

HOUSE APPROVES LENDING CURBS

Bill Strictly Limits Wage Garnishments; Carries Stiffer Penalities On Usury

WASHINGTON (AP) — The far-reaching House bill to require plain language disclosure on interest and other credit costs stands a good chance of Senate approval without major changes, Senate sympathizers say.

The House passed the legislation 362 to 4 yesterday following much closer votes nailing into it a number of sections that go far beyond the similar bill the Senate approved last year. The differences remain to be worked out in a Senate-House conference.

"We hope we can preserve most of the strengthening amendments in conference," said Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis. "I am delighted at the House bill."

Proxmire was a principal sponsor of the legislation in the Senate, but found his original version somewhat trimmed there.

As approved by the House, the bill not only applies broadly the principle that finance charges should be stated in terms of annual percentage, but also strictly limits garnishments of wages for debt and adds the force of federal law enforcement to state laws against usury.

Under its terms, a store offering revolving credit could no longer tell a customer the charge is, for example, 1 and one-half per cent monthly on the unpaid balance. It would have to state the annual percentage—for example, 18 per cent.

Homeowners would be protected by a cooling-off provision against quick sign-up salesmen who might sell them home improvements without telling them the sale involves adding mortgages to their homes.

Stores could no longer advertise only "$5 down, $5 a week." They would have to say how many payments were required and what the cash rate was.

The first $30 of weekly earnings could not be garnished. Above that, only 10 per cent could be diverted to pay debts. Workers could not be fired because of one garnishment.

In a move directed against loan-shark operations by criminal syndicates, the bill was amended to provide federal penalties for violating state usury laws, with the penalties rising steeply to 25 years imprisonment in cases involving violence or conspiracy.

New Package On Consumer Protection

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Chairman Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., of the Senate Commerce Committee today unveiled a broad new package of legislation aimed at helping protect the American consumer.

Magnuson, in a speech prepared for Senate delivery, said he would push for bills to guard consumers in fields of auto insurance, electric power reliability, radiation hazards, fish inspection, home improvements, cigarette smoking and other areas.

Magnuson's proposals were far-ranging. He recommended:

Legislation financing a federal study of problems of the auto insurance industry to determine need for corrective measures.

Legislation to expand fedeal regulation to insure prevention of massive power failures similar to the Northeast blackout of 1965.

A measure to expand fish inspection programs.

Legislation to finance a Federal Trade Commission crackdown on fly-by-night operators in the home improvement field who "account for an estimated consumer loss of from $500 million to $1 billion yearly."

Citizen Bond Advisers Eye Tam Class Needs

The Tamalpais High School District's citizens' bond proposal committee last night discussed present classroom expansion needs, but took no action.

Mrs. James Compton of Kentfield, chairman, said they also studied enrollment projections for the next few years in an attempt to anticipate district needs. The 10-member committee is aiding the district in preparing another multi-million dollar bond proposal. A $12.3 million election issue failed Oct. 10.

Demo To Offer Bill To Protect Low Wage Earner

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Democratic legislator says he plans to offer a package of consumer protection bills to help low-income persons.

Assemblyman John Miller of Berkeley said yesterday his legislation would limit credit and loan interest arges to 12 per cent annually, require merchandise to carry price tags, prohibit false advertising and permit buyers of door-to-door goods and services to rescind contracts.

"It is now pretty well established that the Harlem, Watts and Philadelphia riots were caused partly be exploitation of poverty-stricken consumers," said Miller, a Negro.

He added that some of his proposed bills would protect "the affluent as well as the uneducated poor."
